RUSH MORE MEN TO FRONT

WAR CRAFT FAIL TO HALT GERMAN TROOPS

London, Oct. 23.—(1:30 p. m.)—The only rock-bottomed fact which Englishmen are able to point to today as a basis for their belief that the climax has about been reached in the sea, land and air battle across the channel, is that armies, however numerous, cannot indefinitely face the decimation of their ranks which has marked this the latest phase of the great campaign.

For nearly a week now this tripartite combat has raged with unabated fury between forces up to the present time so equal in strength that the fronts have swayed back and forth without either being able to register a decisive victory. That the slaughter in these fierce efforts and counter efforts to break through the opposing lines transcends anything heretofore seen in this campaign is admitted on both sides.

Nevertheless neither the terrible effects of the long range British naval guns or flat lands offering no natural defensive positions, although vouched for both officially and unofficially, nor the onslaughts of the allied forces on land, has succeeded in stemming the "backing through" tactics of the Germans.

English news dispatches make sweeping claims of annihilating successes. German advices assert continued progress and Russian telegrams report great victories, but well-defined evidence to support these varied contentions is lacking and the facts appear to be that in neither the eastern nor the western arena of the war has the tide yet turned decisively. The great haul of merchant ships by the German cruiser Karlsruhe, now fully confirmed from Las Palmas, has been a rude shock to those who have contended that the Atlantic ocean was held safely by the British navy, but the Germanists have lost no time in pointing out that the fact cannot at the same moment convey hundreds of transports and safeguard every merchant ship. The sinking of merchant vessels without loss of life, it is being remarked, involves no military injury, while the capture of a group of transports would be a disaster. Chambers of commerce, however, are reacting for a sweeping operation suit, recently filed to get both the German cruiser, Emden, in Indian waters, and the equally successful Karlsruhe.

CONTINUE VIOLENT ATTACKS.
Germans Fighting Desperately, Says Paris Announcement.

Paris, Oct. 23.—(2:55 p. m.)—The official announcement given out at the war office this afternoon says: "On our left wing the very considerable German forces whose presence was reported yesterday have continued very violent attacks in the entire region between the sea and the canal of La Bassée.

"Generally speaking the situation of the allied forces has been maintained. If the allies have had to yield at certain points, they have advanced at others. The enemy also evinced very great activity in the region of Arras and on the river Somme. To the north and to the south of this stream we have progressed, particularly in the region of Rosieres.

"In Sauter, in the region of Verdun, and in the region of Pont-a-Mousson we have had some partial successes. On the rest of the front there is nothing to report.

"To sum up: The enemy appears to be undertaking, along the major part of the front and particularly between the North sea and the Oise, a new effort,

COLTON ATTACKS STEEL'S DEFENSE

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—The federal government fired its second gun in its attacks on the United States steel corporation today when Henry H. Colton, special assistant to the attorney general, began his argument to have the United States court dissolve the concern on the ground that it is violating the anti-trust law. Jacob M. Dickinson, who opened for the government several days ago, will close the case next week after John G. Johnson, Philadelphia, makes his argument for the steel corporation.

Mr. Colton said he was surprised to find that the defense was trying to prove that the late J. P. Morgan was not responsible for the organization of the corporation. He did not agree with counsel for the defense that the creation of the gigantic corporation was the natural outcome of business conditions, but insisted that it was the direct result of the scheming of five great groups of industrial and financial interests as represented by Morgan, Carnegie, Rockefeller, Gates and the Moores. He reiterated the government charge that the United States steel corporation, purely a holding company, not only threatens to restrain trade but actually is restraining it.

WOMAN'S CLUBS CONVENTION ENDS

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 23.—Miss Vida Newsum, Columbus, was re-elected president of the Indiana Federation of Women's clubs, in the balloting yesterday. The result of the election was announced this morning in the concluding sessions of the eighth annual convention.

Other officers selected are: Dr. Amelia Keller, Indianapolis, first vice president; Mrs. Victor Franklin Jones, South Bend, second vice president; Mrs. Robert A. Ogg, Greencastle, recording secretary; Mrs. Elsie M. Meredith, Cambridge City, trustee.

Indianapolis was selected for next year's convention.

QUOTES RATES ON T. R.'S SIGNATURE

New York, Oct. 23.—A letter in which it was stated that Theodore Roosevelt would autograph books at a regular rate of from $1 to $5 per signature, was introduced today by the government in its suit against James A. Farmer, Wm. B. Hartley and others charged with using the mails to swindle the public, to the extent of $10,000,000 by sales of so-called rare books.

The letter was written by Farmer on April 3, 1911, and was addressed to Mrs. M. L. Dickinson, of this city, a client of the Anglo-American Authors' association, of which Farmer was a member. The letter reads: "My Dear Mrs. Dickinson: They certainly gave you some lemons. The Roosevelt is the biggest lemon by a large majority. I would guarantee to furnish you with a much superior set for $750. I am sure I could get Roosevelt to sign a few sheets for me at his regular rate, which is $1 to $5 per signature."

MRS. CARMAN'S STORY UPHELD

Relatives Support Denial of Guilt Made by Accused Woman.

LITTLE DAUGHTER'S STORY IS DRAMATIC Doctor's Wife Undergoes
Bitter Ordeal of Cross-Examination.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, passed through the bitter ordeal of cross-examination today. Her story denying all participation in the crime was continued. When she concluded members of her household followed her to the stand and swore that what she had testified to was true.

Mrs. Sarah Conklin, Mrs. Ida Powell, Elizabeth Carman, mother, sister, and daughter—one by one affirmed her story that she was in bed when the shot was fired; that she donned kimono and slippers, went downstairs into the waiting-room, leaned for a minute or two against the mantelpiece and then returned to her room.

Ten-year-old Elizabeth testified that she, too, went down the stairs behind her mother, stayed there but a moment, returned in a minute or two to her mother's room.

"My mother was there."

Against the testimony of the Carman household the state has the evidence of Celia Coleman, negro maid of all work in Mrs. Carman's home, and Frank Farrell, former railroad engineer. Celia has testified that Mrs. Carman went out of the kitchen a short time before the shot was fired, reappeared a few seconds after it was fired, produced a revolver from the folds of her kimono and said: "I shot him." Farrell has testified that he saw a woman, dressed as Mrs. Carman was dressed, flee from the window into the house after the shooting.

Mrs. Carman broke down after it was all over and cried. The reaction came when her aged mother was on the stand.

Dr. Edwin Carman, husband of the defendant, was called after the noon recess. He corroborated the testimony of other members of his household as to who was in the house the night of the murder. He said there were several persons, among them Mrs. Bailey, whom he did not know at that time, sitting in the waiting-room.

"After I had talked to Mrs. Bailey," the witness continued, "she prepared to go home. Then the glass in the window was broken and a revolver fired through it. I had my hand on the doorknob. I dropped behind the operating table. Then there was a shot. Mrs. Bailey said, 'I'm shot.' I told her she was all right, then I saw blood. I grabbed her and pulled her back of the chair out of range of more bullets. Then she died."

Wife Not in Office.

Dr. Carman said Celia was in his office once that night, but that Mrs. Carman was not. Dr. Carman said he looked at the window as he grabbed Mrs. Bailey but saw nothing. He was sure the door between the pantry and the office was locked.

On cross-examination District Attorney Smith asked if it were true that he had more women patients than men.

KARLSRUHE HAS SUNK 13 ENGLISH STEAMERS

London, Oct. 23.—A dispatch from Tenerife, Canary Islands, to the Daily Mail, under date of Thursday, reports that the German cruiser Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

The news of the Karlsruhe's exploit, according to the Daily Mail's Tenerife correspondent, was brought to that port by the German steamer Crefeld, which arrived there with the crews of the British steamers Strathroy, Maple Branch, Highland Hope, Indrani, Rio Ignessu, Farn, Nicote, Maria De Larrinaga, Cornish City, Pruth, Condor and Lynowan, all of which were sunk by the Karlsruhe.

The Crefeld was accompanied into port by the steamers Patagonia, Rio Negro and Assamite.

A later message states that over 400 men of the crew are prisoners and that the merchantmen were mostly sunk in the Atlantic. The ships were mostly engaged in the South American trade and their total tonnage is about 60,000.

The Karlsruhe is a comparatively new ship, having gone into commission early in 1913. She is very fast, having a speed of 27 knots, which has enabled her thus far to successfully elude the persistent British pursuit. Her main armament consists of twelve 4-inch guns and she carries a crew of 373 men.

IN COLLISION WITH CRUISER

French Warship is Badly Damaged by Spanish Steamer.

New York, Oct. 23.—Officers of the Spanish steamer Telefera, which arrived here today from Buenos Aires, reported that the steamer was in collision with the French cruiser Descartes in the harbor of Castries, St. Lucia, on October 6. The cruiser was badly injured, according to the Telefera's officers and had to be taken to Martinique for repairs.

The collision occurred as the Telefera was entering the harbor, her officers said. They did not see the Descartes till the cruiser was a short distance ahead. Immediately the steamer's engines were reversed and she let drop her anchor. Her momentum, however, was so great and she crashed full into the warship. A boat was lowered from the cruiser and two of her officers boarded the steamer. They were very angry; the Telefera's captain feared they would beat him. After a long and bitter wrangle the officers went away and the Telefera was made to give a bond to make good the cruiser's repairs before the steamer was permitted to continue on her trip to Boston and New York. Injuries to the steamer were found to be insignificant her officers said, but the cruiser was badly hurt and was leaking. She was taken to Martinique.

The Telefera is of approximately 2,700 tons.

RAILROADS ARE SUSTAINED.

Restrictions on Extra Fare Trains Upheld by Commerce Commission.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Certain restrictions placed upon so-called fast "extra fare trains" by railroads generally were sustained today by the inter-state commerce commission.

T. C. Kennedy, of Chicago, bought an extra fare ticket at New York for Chicago but found it necessary to discontinue his journey at Syracuse, N. Y., and asked the New York Central for a refund of the remainder of his fare. The railroad offered a refund between Elkhart, Ind., the first passenger stop of that train, and Chicago, which Kennedy refused. The commission sustained the railroad, holding that with such restrictions fast extra fare trains would become scarce.

GERMANY STILL HAS AMPLE MEN

Thousands of Members of the Landwehr Are Yet Available.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(By Wireless.)—The general in command of the German seventh army corps, it was stated officially in Berlin today, has declared that the calling out of the Landwehr is unnecessary as enormous numbers of the landwehr were still available. Nor has it yet been necessary to call out volunteers.

The following statement in the matter of the recent anti-German demonstrations in London has been given out in official quarters:

"The English judge in the course of the proceedings against the perpetrators of these anti-German outrages expressed regret at the doctrine that foreigners in England are outlaws."

According to information given out officially today the German military authorities when they discovered that certain dwelling houses in the neighborhood had been burned down by the French, took care of the French civilians to the number of 140, who had been living there. Among them were many women and children. All were sent to Rastatt, near Karlsruhe, where they were given shelter in the arsenal.

The correspondent in Berlin of the Tribuna of Rome has admitted that the confidence of the Germans in the general staff of the army is quite justified by its incomparable organization. The Paris Temps, according to an announcement made here, reports that the English have confiscated and sold many valuable German and Austrian race horses, worth in all over $200,000. This fact, it is said, together with confiscation of the racing yacht owned by Herr Krupp von Bohlen, proves that the English have no respect for private property.

It was announced here today that the German reichstag will convene early in December.

NELE SAM WILL PROTEST.

Demand That England Release the Seized Oil Steamer.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The United States has decided to formally protest to Great Britain against the seizure of the Standard Oil ship, the Platania, demanding her release from British detention at Scapa Flow, a port in the Lewis Islands, Scotland.

LEADERS EXPECT A BIG MEETING

Governor Ralston, Mr. Taggart and Others in Fort Wayne Tonight.

Democratic leaders expect a big meeting at the Majestic theater on the occasion of the appearance here of Governor Samuel M. Ralston, Hon. W. H. O'Brien, auditor of state, and Thomas Taggart, who are to address an audience on Friday night.

The distinguished party arrived in the city late Thursday night from Auburn and remained here until Friday morning, when they made a trip in a special car to Deatur, where they were booked to speak on Friday afternoon.

They were expected to return here in time for a lunch at the Anthony hotel at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a reception half an hour later, after which they will proceed to the theater in automobiles for the speaking.

Governor Ralston's speaking tour has seriously affected his voice and he was very hoarse on Friday morning, but expected to be in shape for his address in

WILSON MAY ADJOURN IT

WAR TAX BILL IS NOW LAW OF LAND

Southern Statesmen Block
Thursday Plans for Adjournment.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Probabilities that President Wilson would exercise his constitutional prerogative to adjourn congress, inasmuch as congress itself is unable to agree on ending the session, were considered stronger today by administration leaders, after the president had conferred with Speaker Clark and Senators Kern and Overman.

Speaker Clark said he was sure both houses now sitting without a quorum would be unable to agree on adjournment and he believed the country would endorse such action by the president. The president's power for such a precedent breaking action is found in section three of article two of the constitution, which provides that "in case of disagreement between the (both houses of congress) with respect to the time of adjournment, he (the president) may adjourn them to such time as, he shall think proper."

In the senate there was possibility that the filibuster of senators from the cotton states might be abandoned, but in the house the champions of cotton relief were reported ready to block adjournment resolutions on a point of no quorum.

After Senator Clark's speech today, the senate adjourned to noon tomorrow, and hopes of an end today were glimmering.

Block Adjournment Plan.

The plan to adjourn at 6 o'clock last night, immediately following the adoption of the conference report on the war revenue bill, was frustrated by the filibuster which prevented action in the senate on a joint resolution calling for adjournment at that time and to which the house had agreed.

As the leaders had no definite plans the date on which the session would come to an end was still problematical early today. Despite the fact that they had hoped that the final disposition of the war tax measure would be the concluding act of the session, it appeared that the work of congress was still un-

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

GERMANS PUSH FRESH TROOPS FORWARD.

London, Oct. 23.—(3:20 p. m.)—A dispatch from Paris to Reuters Telegraph company, says that, according to trustworthy accounts received at the French capital this morning, fresh troops brought up by the Germans have enabled them to deliver attacks with increased vigor on the French right wing where the battle has been of a ding-dong character with alternate gains and losses.

PREPARE TO LAND TROOPS IN ENGLAND.

Copenhagen, Oct. 23.—Two ship yards at Kiel, the German and the Howard, are building thirty armored lighters capable of carrying 500 men each and traveling at the rate of nine miles an hour to proceed to the river Scheldt should events permit the landing of German troops on the coast of England. Furthermore it is asserted that three of these lighters are completed and already on their way to the Scheldt.

SWEDISH STEAMER BLOWN UP BY MINE.

London, Oct. 23.—(4:51 p. m.)—The Swedish steamer Alice, homeward bound from London, has been blown up by a mine in the North sea. She sank in three minutes. All the members of her crew were saved.

BRANDELS AFTER ROADS' FIGURES

Washington, Oct. 23.—Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the interstate commerce commission attacked the figures of railroad statisticians upon which the freight rates because of the European war, when the hearing on the rate case was resumed today, and demanded an opportunity to cross examine the men who prepared them. "This estimate," said Mr. Brandeis, "appears absolutely out of line with what might have been expected to be the fact. The statistics that appear upon which the rates are based are based upon uncorroborated reports."

EXPENSIVE FOR SULLIVAN.

Illinois Candidate Filed Report on Expenditures.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Additional expenditure of $4,208.04 in the Illinois senatorial primary was reported today by Roger Sullivan, the democratic candidate. The principal item was $3,470 to G. E. Brennan for money expended by him for organization among individuals and associations. Sullivan reported previously that he had spent $1,111 in the contest. The report that he spent more than $4,000 was based upon uncorroborated reports.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF--25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and seraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

BATTLE NOW RAGING FROM SEA, AIR, LAND

London, Oct. 23.—(10:30 a. m.)—Vessels from the French navy, having crept around the coast, were today standing by the British monitors which are hurling shells landward between Ostend and Newport on the Belgian coast in continuation of the fierce battle between the Germans and allies for the possession of North sea and channel ports. For the first time since the war began aircraft and warships are aiding simultaneously in the movements of land forces; thus the struggle is being waged in the air, on the sea and on the land at the same time.

The Germans are hurrying forward fresh troops and heavy guns, the latter to make reply to the damaging fire from the ships, and although they have been pushed back at certain points they appear to be holding their line between the sea and La Bassee without, however, making noteworthy progress.

The fight, so far as Belgium is concerned, has now resolved itself into a terrific artillery duel in which it is claimed the allies by their long range guns have had the advantage. The muddy roads and the network of canals doubtless have hindered the invaders in getting their guns of equal or greater range into position. When they do accomplish this the situation will be even more acute. It is said that up to the present time the British naval losses have been negligible, although both sides must have suffered heavily on land. The Germans claim to have put a British torpedo boat out of action.

King at Scene of Fighting. Albert, king of the Belgians, who since his retirement from Ostend has been reported at various points in northern France, appears to be actually at the scene of fighting. This information is on the authority of the British ultimatum. Dispatches say that the queen also is with the Belgian army, but this must be classed as a rumor much the same as the reports that Gen. von Moltke, chief of the German general staff, is seriously ill or the statement that Emperor William again has moved his headquarters.

The report that Gen. von Moltke's son has been killed also is revived, and it will be remembered, only recently it was rumored that Gen. von Moltke had been removed as chief of the general staff.

That the German line south of Ostend has been cut and that a retirement has set in figures among a number of other unconfirmed news reports this morning.

A message from Havre says the Belgians have regained the right bank of the river, or if preferred, the canal Yser, and this is the first information that they were forced to give ground there during the recent fighting. All official statements given out by the allies have insisted that they were valiantly resisting the German offensive. The word "regained," however, would seem to indicate that the Germans at times have made advances. The dikes of this waterway have now been cut, making the situation for the Germans more difficult.

Calls for Persecution. The German press is branding the round-up of alien enemies in the British Isles as fanatical persecution, and in late dispatches from Berlin there have appeared allegations concerning atrocities committed by French soldiers, although later dispatches say that none of these has been substantiated. The London press is congratulating the country on this gathering up of aliens in the British Isles on the theory that while individual hardships may result in some cases, it is better in general to remove what is regarded as a menace.

As a matter of fact the German spy idea has been becoming more and more of a bugaboo until it finally got on British nerves with the result that it was decided to take no chances.

Few Englishmen will admit that they really expect a visit from Zeppelins, but the insurance companies are doing a large business not only on property but against personal injury from bombs. Even Westminster Abbey has been insured.

The reported German defeat before Warsaw still dominates the news from the eastern field and again they recall what is becoming a time worn report that the Russians have taken Przemyśl. A dispatch to the Central News from Petrograd says this is persistently reported but not confirmed.

In the reported German rout at Warsaw the British press professes to see the turning point along the Vistula. While the Germans apparently are holding their positions along this river between Przemyśl and Sandomir it is claimed that the time is nearing for Russia to carry the war into Germany.

BORAH HEARD BY A BIG AUDIENCE

Theater Filled by People Who Listened to the Senator.

Long before Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, opened his address in the Majestic theater Thursday night every seat except those reserved for the vice presidents had been filled and it was necessary to hold an overflow meeting at the court house assembly room for those who failed to get inside the theater building.

Following his arrival in the city late in the afternoon the senator was tendered a reception at the Anthony hotel and at the meeting he was introduced by H. Paul Mossman, the presiding officer of the evening. An auto parade, with a number of ladies riding in the machines, men on horse back and the marching clubs of the republican party, covered the downtown streets prior to the gathering at the theater and this delayed the opening of the address for a short time.

Senator Borah's Address.

Opening with the statement that the problems of the present are the most important since the civil war, the senator said in part:

"The democratic party is not in power because the majority of the people wanted a democratic administration, but the democratic party is in power because of the division in the republican party, and Wilson is a minority president."

"I hope there are democrats here, because I did not come here to talk to the rightwingers, but call the sinners to repent. If it were not for the division in the republican party the democrats would have no hope this year."

"The republican convention in 1916, which will probably be held in Chicago, will be made up of the rank and file of republicans. They will draft the platform and they will nominate the candidate for president. And that candidate for president will be elected. The democrats are in control of all branches of the government and they dare not criticize any of the laws the republicans, who preceded them, passed. The republican party is progressive.

"Ex-Senator Beveridge says I have no right to talk progressivism. I never looked for a personal quarrel from any one, but when a personal quarrel is forced upon me, I never run away from it. Now about that Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. I have always been and always will be a protectionist, unless I lose my mind before I die. In the Payne-Aldrich tariff fight I favored a provision for an income tax amendment so that if we reduced the tariff we would still have funds enough to run the government."

In the first fight the Payne-Aldrich matter Beveridge voted with Aldrich. In the second fight Beveridge voted with Aldrich. On the third fight Beveridge didn't vote at all.

"If the democrats had spent only as much money to run this government as the republicans did they would be subject to your criticism, for in their platform they inserted a plank for economy and condemned the republicans for their alleged extravagance. But the democrats have already spent $100,000,000 more than the republicans did and there is $105,000,000 still to come—a war tax. The only thing the war has to do with this expenditure is to christen it. And the democrats expect to vote money for a Nicaraguan canal and I can't see what we want another canal for. We built one and gave it to England; now the democrats propose to build another and give it to Germany."

MARSHALL GETS INTO CAMPAIGN

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 23.—Before an audience of 1,600 persons, the largest political gathering held here in years, Vice President Marshall last night discussed the political issues. Mr. Marshall praised Senator Shively, commended democratic redemption of promises as to tariff and income tax and urged voters to uphold the democratic program.

Earlier in the day, in an address at Greencastle, Mr. Marshall gave an eulogy of President Wilson, of the things he has accomplished and of his plans for the future. An era of unprecedented prosperity was predicted, despite the war, and the vice president asserted that if the voters of the country fail to return men to congress who will back Mr. Wilson, all of his plans for the good of the country will be thwarted.

Mr. Marshall declared the democratic party had recognized the right of all human beings to liberty and the pursuit of happiness by its refusal to "run over" the members of the minority in congress and by its earnest effort to effect legislation that the people desired.

MONARCHISTS IN PORTUGAL REBEL

Lisbon, Oct. 23.—(Via Paris 5:20 p. m.)—The monarchists of Portugal made attempts the nights of October 20 and October 21 to effect uprisings. There were outbreaks at various places, especially in the northern part of Portugal, which for a time was cut off from telegraphic communication with Lisbon. A sharp conflict took place at Mafra between 100 civilians and republican troops.

The civilians were led by a lieutenant, who seized the arsenal. The troops were victorious. An insurgent band, numbering 200 men, was pursued to the mountains.

Portions of the railroad track at Santarem and Mafra were torn up and trains were derailed. A colonel and two sergeants were arrested at Santarem and many monarchists were taken into custody in Lisbon.

of what the coffee trade think of the harmfulness of the coffee-drug, caffeine, is shown in their efforts to get rid of it—to get a coffee that doesn't contain caffeine!

When they do succeed in getting rid of some of the caffeine drug-content, the result is a weak, "clover-tea" decoction that few appreciate.

But after all their efforts to rid coffee of part of its caffeine, how about the other coffee-drug, "tannin"—about 2 2-5 grains to every cup of coffee?

Tannin is the drug used to tan hides with. Do you know what it does to your stomach? Probably not. Here is what good authorities say about it:—

"Tannic acid in coffee interferes with digestion."

"The caffeine and theine in coffee and tea are cerebral stimulants, and the tannic acid is an astringent, affecting especially the muscular fibers of the intestinal walls."

"Tannic acid is universally condemned by all authorities as a hindrance to digestion and health."

Why keep on running the risk of serious interference with health. Why not quit a table beverage that bears in its train a lot of trouble like nervousness, headache, heart, stomach, bowel disturbance, insomnia, etc.

Thousands, suffering from these ills, find it easy to quit coffee when they have at hand the delicious, nourishing beverage—

CHILD ESCAPES FIEND.

Little Van Wert Girl Breaks From Man Who Held Her.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 23.—Alleen Davenport, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Davenport, residing at 123 South Wall street, undoubtedly escaped from a fiend about 10 o'clock the other night when she succeeded in jerking away from an unknown man who had forced her to accompany him as far as the Pennsylvania railroad tracks on North Shannon street. The little girl and her brother had been down town, and on their way home Alleen dropped behind, and as she reached the corner of Shannon and Main streets the man walked up, seized her by the wrist and walked down North Shannon street, his victim so frightened that she was unable to scream or call for help. When they reached the railroad the little girl made a desperate and successful effort to break away, and ran for home, meeting her mother and brother, who had just started in search of her. She quickly told her story, and the local police were notified but were unable to secure any trace of the fiend.

AUTO PARTY IN WRECK.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 23.—Brenton Quin and Albert Kinder were thrown from an automobile on the Columbia City road, breaking their left arms. Herman Kinder and John Zitzer, who were the other occupants, were not severely injured. The men were returning

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.

The moment you apply bold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet, in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.

Any good pharmacist will supply a punce of bold-sulphur, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with torturous itching.—Adv.

AGEL WOMAN INJURED.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Noah Garrett, whose home is about one and one-half miles south of Liberty Center, sustained a very severe injury in a fall at her home. She had gone to the rear of her residence for an armload of wood and was returning when she slipped and fell backward, striking the ground in such a manner that the force of the fall was sustained by the right hip. The pelvis was broken and the injury was such as to render Mrs. Garrett unable to walk. She managed to crawl to the telephone and to call her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank C. Garrett, whom she informed of the accident.

HAD BEEN DEAD THREE DAYS.

Avilla, Ind., Oct. 23.—Cerebro apoplexy was the cause of the sudden death of Grant Warner, well known farmer of Swan township, whose body was found in his home by two neighbors Wednesday afternoon, according to the verdict of Coroner Louis Berhalter, of Kendallville, who held an inquest late in the afternoon. Evidence showed that Warner had been dead since last Monday, as his body was partly decomposed.

ONCE CLERK OF DEKALB COUNTY.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 23.—The death of Bradford D. Harris, aged 72, at Providence, R. I., a former Auburn man and at one time county clerk for DeKalb county, was announced in a telegram received by his brother-in-law, Joseph Rahnier, of this city.

The name of Bradford D. Harris is a familiar one. He was deputy clerk under George Moss while in Auburn, and after Mr. Moss' death he was appointed to fill his unexpired term. The remains will be brought here for burial.

FOR BIGGER AND BETTER CITY.

Portland, Ind., Oct. 23.—The opening gun was fired in a bigger and better Portland campaign at a business and professional men's banquet here, followed with another luncheon for clerks in the evening. At both meetings O. A. Charles, who was brought here by the Portland Commercial association to be in charge of a two days' booster campaign, delivered addresses.

CAR REPAIRER INJURED.

Delphos, Ohio, Oct. 23.—W. H. McCabe, car repairer at the Clover Leaf shops, was painfully injured when he was thrown violently from a car on which he was riding. He was found lying along the track by a fellow-workman. He sustained two broken ribs and other injuries.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Fishon, Peru, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it: "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

People Will Rule, Says Mme. Nazimova

New York, Oct. 23.—Mme. Nazimova, Russian actress, is busy rehearsing a new play, but not so busy that she can not give her views on the European war and its outcome.

"This war had to come," says the emotional Russian. "We could no longer tolerate social and political conditions in Europe. When the nations are through fighting we shall have new forms of government, more liberty of thought. The people will have a voice in the new governments, and thus will the war be justified."

CONVOY NEWS.

Convoy, O., Oct. 23.—Rose Reynolds is spending a few days as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Gettys Elin, near Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mollenkopf and two children left Thursday morning for Dayton, O., where they will visit for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coleman and family.

Mrs. Carl Reynolds and daughter Ellen, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reynolds and family for the past summer, returned to Logansport Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Prastick, from Monticello, were the guests of relatives here Wednesday.

Julia Reidenbach returned to her home south of town Wednesday, after spending several days as the guest of relatives in Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mollenkopf went to Fort Wayne Thursday morning on business.

Mrs. B. C. English, from Lima, came Thursday morning to visit her mother, Mrs. R. Norris, and family west of Convoy.

USING GOLD BULLETS.

Yaqui Indians Putting Fancy Frills on Fighting.

La Colorado, Mex., Oct. 23.—Gold bullets are being used by the Yaquis, of Sonora, with demoralizing effect upon the Mexican troops opposing them. It is said the Mexicans expose themselves recklessly to the Indians' fire, expecting that the bullets which bring them down will be worth enough to pay the surgeon's bill and still leave a nice little profit.

The Yaquis are making their bullets out of $50,000 worth of gold precipitate which they captured from an American pack train some time ago. In their present crisis the Indians find bullets much more valuable to them than gold.

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you have darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

WAS EARLY SETTLER IN WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 23.—Word has been received in Warsaw announcing the death of Mrs. Nancy Julian, a former early settler of Warsaw, who passed away on the 20th inst., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Hartley, at Greenport, Long Island, at the age of 99 years. Mrs. Julian was well known among the early settlers of Warsaw, and always took an active part in church affairs before advancing years precluded it. She was a devout Christian woman and a member of the Methodist church from girlhood.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 20:14-22.

14 Then upon Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, the son of Benaiab, the son of Jethi, the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, came the Spirit of the Lord in the midst of the congregation:

15 And he said, Harken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, and thou king Jehoshaphat, Thus saith the Lord unto you, Be not afraid nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude, for the battle is not yours, but God's.

16 Tomorrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the cliff of Zis; and ye shall find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderness of Jeruel.

17 Ye shall not need to fight in this battle: set yourselves, stand ye still, and see the salvation of the Lord with you, O Judah and Jerusalem: fear not, nor be dismayed; tomorrow go out against them: for the Lord will be with you.

18 And Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, stood up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20 And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the Lord, and that should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army, and to say, Praise the Lord; for his mercy endureth for ever.

22 And when they began to sing and to praise, the Lord set ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Judah; and they were smitten.

In the Thick of the Fight.

Unless all signs fail, all indications go amiss and the judgment of keen political observers be proven lamentably at fault, the campaign now being waged in Indiana will terminate in a splendid victory for democracy at the election which is now rapidly nearing. We are now in the thick of the fight. Each party is bending every effort to secure a favorable verdict, and there is manifestly a deep, though quiet, interest taken in the struggle by the rank and file of voters.

Despite the fuss and the furore and the frenzied claims of the opposition, the democratic leaders are viewing the outlook with absolute confidence. They reason logically that the people have an abiding and unshaken faith in the president, and that they are anxious to uphold his hands by a democratic congress in order that he may complete the work on which a notable beginning has already been made. They point the fact that in state matters new problems have been met, new governmental endeavors undertaken in response to expressed popular desire and the state's affairs have been competently managed under Governor Ralston's administration. They have full confidence that the people will not fail to accord the full measure of credit where it is due, and that democracy may submit its record without fear. The outstanding fact in these later days of the campaign in Indiana is the augury for democratic success in November.

The Sentinel trusts that the recent movement launched by the board of public works to eliminate the smoke nuisance in Fort Wayne will not be allowed to lapse with the serving of notice on some half a dozen of the large number of institutions which have been offending in the matter. The coming of winter will vastly increase the smoke nuisance, and this is the time of year when most beneficial results can be obtained by action. Whether the remedy lie in insistence on the use of proper varieties of coal, in more competent firing, or in the installation of adequate smoke-consuming devices is quite immaterial so long as results are attained. In the down-town district the situation is particularly unsightly, harmful and wasteful. Let us have some smoke-prevention action that prevents.

Without purpose to pose as an advisor in expert finance, The Sentinel is constrained to recommend as an investment the Allen county stone road bonds which are now in the hands of the county treasurer for sale to those who desire them. They are in denominations ranging from $240 to $1,000, pay 4 1/2 per cent. interest, are non-taxable and there is no premium on them. The bonds are unquestionably safe, for the entire township for which they are issued is security for the payment. More than this, their purchase will serve a double purpose. It will not only provide a desirable investment, but will mean a stimulation of business by permitting the giving of employment on construction of the roads, which cannot, under the law, be begun until the bonds have been sold and the cash is on hand to pay for the work.

WHY INDIANA Needs a New CONSTITUTION

FACT NO. 6.

The great recognized need in government in the United States today is machinery which will take political control from the professional politicians and the special interests and place it in the people. This is being done successfully in seventeen states and more than three hundred cities through means of the initiative and referendum. These are to be voted on in seven other states at the November election.

With the aid of these instruments of popular government, the people have been retreating the bosses and taking control of the government into their own hands. It is the only practical means ever devised to enable the people to exercise direct control of the law-making and provide effective check upon their law-makers. Actual experience with the initiative and referendum clinches the following facts:

That they have notably diminished log-rolling in legislative bodies, vastly restricted the power of the bosses and the political rings to control legislation and made the people's representatives more responsive to public opinion. That the people take an active interest in the political rings to control legislation, the average of ten states at the 1912 elections being 75 per cent. of the vote on candidates.

That they show keen discrimination in their voting, evidenced by the fact that in the same ten states only fifty-three of a total of the ninety-four measures submitted were adopted.

That they are conservative in their actions, as shown by the character of the measures adopted and rejected. Application of the principle of initiative and referendum in Indiana can only come through a new constitution.

CONFIDENCE NEEDED.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.) It is a true word which Governor Hamilton, of the federal reserve board, spoke in his address before the American Bankers' association. The country is not suffering from a lack of currency, but from a lack of credit. The nation had in circulation on July 1, 1913, of gold, silver, certificates and the older forms of notes, $3,363,738,149, while there was in the treasury $356,331,567. These items may have slightly decreased, but the circulation has been largely enhanced by the issue of $340,000,000 of Aldrich-Vreeland currency. There is $1,200,000,000 that can be issued, but is not taken. The south, whose need is most pressing, is entitled to $100,000,000 of this currency, but so far it has taken but $60,000,000. What the south needs, as well as the north, east and west, is not money, but the credit that will enable it to get money at a less price.

Moreover, the situation justifies this confidence. The drags upon the recovery of business at present are almost entirely the lack of confidence in the future. Yet it is plain that there is every ground for confidence in the future. The country is in sound condition internally. Trade with neutral nations offers an immense field for expansion. Even the combatants will, while fighting, make a large demand on this country for food and supplies, and when they make peace will call for immense amounts of material to repair the damages of war. These things will be accompanied by drawbacks, no doubt, but it remains true that the future of this country is decidedly bright, if the confidence of trade and finance is restored. Americans should understand that their future will be prosperous in proportion as they make the most of their opportunities.

SEVERE GERMAN DEFEAT RUMORED

London, Oct. 23.—(3:55 a. m.)—"The German general staff has left Ghent and there are strong rumors of a severe German defeat," says the Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail. "Messages from different points of the north-west frontier agree that the German coast army is being rolled up like a ribbon."

"The German cavalry has been unable to maneuver in the tangled dyke country and the German big guns are stuck in bogs. By a magnificent attack, it is stated, the Franco-British forces have cut the German line south of Ostend."

PANKHURST AIDE BLOCKS TRAFFIC

New York, Oct. 23.—The militant methods of Miss Christabel Pankhurst have brought one of her aides into conflict with the New York police. Miss Jeanne Slater, of London, who has had experience with the London police, started out yesterday afternoon to chalk the sidewalks of Broadway with notices of the meeting at Carnegie hall tomorrow afternoon, at which Miss Pankhurst is to speak. Crowds gathered thinking Miss Pankhurst herself was at work. Traffic was so much disturbed that police served the young militant with a summons to appear in court today.

Miss Slater protested that she did not know she was breaking any rules. The crowd took her side, but they could not dissuade the officer. Miss Pankhurst herself will appear in court to help her young aide.

GRABILL NEWS

Grabill, Ind., Oct. 23.—The Wabash railroad will change the schedule of its local passenger trains Sunday. Four of the trains will be removed from the Montpelier division, the fast train making stops to accommodate passengers. Grist and Daub will unload a car load of winter apples sometime next week.

The C. C. Schlatter orchestra, of Fort Wayne, will give a concert in the rink next Tuesday evening.

Albert Lantz, of Berne, Ind., made a business visit here between trains recently.

Mrs. J. J. Schlatter has been able to attend church services for some time, but last Sunday evening she became suddenly ill and was unable to be taken to her home. She was taken to the home of D. N. Klopferstein.

L. H. Hursh is repairing the lighting and heating systems in his residence. The stoning of State street will be completed this week.

ENTERTAIN THEIR FRIENDS.

Members of North American Club Gave a Spread in Honor of H. E. Sprague.

In honor of their ex-landlord, Harry E. Sprague, now located in Sioux City, who was here on a visit, the members of the North American club gave a big spread Thursday evening in their rooms in the North American building. Each member of the club invited a few friends to take part in the evening's program. Charles Huff, president of the organization, who made all arrangements for the jolly evening, presided. Members of the club are F. L. Barnett, John Davies, J. J. Fleming, W. P. Klippe, W. Watson and Charles Stringer. Others who were present were Frank Bessie, Harry McGowan, George Dunham, W. C. Vesey, Frank Goetz, Harry E. Sprague, Chas. A. Miller, E. F. Pruechte, C. L. Young, H. Ford, G. B. Horn, A. Thomas, L. H. Stahle, E. E. Altevort, E. Rehling, C. Bab, R. J. Coats, R. H. Chadwick, J. Ouse, C. F. Hoffman, E. J. Harshman, E. B. Hoff and L. D. Arnold.

The evening was spent in singing and listening to interesting talks by several of those present. The music furnished by M. J. Ouse, Charles Miller and F. Getz was well received and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. Sprague gave a short address on the city where he is now located and promised to give more the next time he returned.

FRENCH PARLIAMENT WILL MEET IN PARIS

Paris, Oct. 23.—The struggle on the lengthened line extending into Belgium now called the battle of Flanders, gave rise to an engagement along the coast as near as possible to the birth place of Jules Verne, in which aircraft and submarines participated, realizing for the first time, in the same encounter, the dreams of the great Frenchman.

The British monitors off shore did great execution on the German trenches, among those reported killed being Gen. von Tripp and his staff. While the allies' airmen cleverly directed the aim of the marine guns the German submarines lying in wait attacked the monitors, but without result because the latter were so far in shore. Here again the critics remark that the attempts of the Germans to turn the allies' left and reach the French coast has been defeated and the Germans again have been forced to resort to frontal attacks.

The gains made by the allies on the road to Metz, it is thought must draw the attention of the Germans seriously to a quarter where they are menaced, not only from the direction of Verdun but by the renewed successes of the French in the eastern slope of the Vosges.

The French continue their preparations with prospective recruits to fill the gaps in the army. Baron Pierre de Courberin, president of the French Olympic games, it has been announced, has been charged by the government to care for the physical training of young men from fifteen to nineteen with a view to their entry into the service.

The military authorities are more and more watchful of stragglers. Every man arriving at the Paris terminals, of age to bear arms, is required to show papers on arrival and if they are not in order arrests are made. Some of the soldiers, not in the habit of being fettered have been the most returning from the front, succumbed to temptation and over-stayed their permissions. These stragglers included Turcos and Zouaves. Now even soldiers in uniform are required to produce a permit or failing in this they are ordered to fall in by the patrols.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS HEAVY FINE

Arthur Geib, Noble County Farmer, Did Things on Road With Auto.

Shamefaced, penitent, presenting distinctly the air of the morning after, and a prisoner in the box at police court after a night spent in jail, Arthur E. Geib, a prosperous farmer of Noble county, residing two miles east of Rome City, publicly took the pledge hereafter to abstain from the use of all intoxicating liquors as a beverage, while the court took $80 of his money in a fine of $50 and costs. Geib buzzed into Fort Wayne with his family and a Ford, Thursday, and while the missus took the youngsters and went shopping for socks and shoes and flannels and such like vanities, Arthur fared forth over the town and put in his time industriously and profitably trying to hew a tractable compound of beer and booze. When the time for starting home had fully come, L'il Arthur had a house of royal excellences and did not give a darn where the little old Ford held to the track or not. The very reasonable happened. Going down the hill not far beyond the Spy Run bridge on the Lima road, just outside the city, Geib lost control of his car and dashed into the buggy occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dushman and their baby. The buggy was thrown from the roadway and overturned and the horse broke loose and ran away—but no one in the buggy was injured. Geib's car leaped from the road, careened and threw out its occupants, righted itself and stopped. Mrs. Geib received some painful bruises, but neither Geib nor the four children received any harm. Sheriff Gladieux and Deputy Courdevue went out and arrested Geib, who had a roaring jag and was ugly and full of fight, charging him with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He was locked up over night and Sheriff Gladieux saw that Mrs. Geib and the children were comfortably provided for during the night. In the city court Geib frankly admitted that he was drunk, and he was sorry that he would make good all damage and never would drink any more. Geib owns a farm of 160 acres in Noble county and a well-trodden. He settled with Dushman for damage to the buggy and harness, paying, it is understood, $50. Dushman, who is a clerk in the postoffice in Fort Wayne, was driving to his home when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Dushman and Mrs. Dushman each held in her arms at the time of the collision a tender infant. Both babies were hurled through the air and neither was injured. Mrs. Geib lay unconscious on the ground when the first help arrived, while her drunken husband was tinkering with a tire on his wrecked car, and giving his wife no attention. Geib was locked up Friday after his trial pending arrangements with a Kendallville bank to forward money to pay his fine.

He denied this. He said he had been practicing for several years.

Dr. Carman denied that he had ever told the grand jury that he had his hand on Mrs. Bailey's shoulder.

SMILES IN TAKING STAND.

Someone Told Her Doctor Was "a Devil With the Girls."

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, on trial as the slayer of Mrs. Louise Bailey, smilingly stepped into the witness stand today for the ordeal of cross examination by the district attorney. She appeared cheerful and refreshed and said she was ready to reply to all questions. District Attorney Smith might ask her, no matter what they were.

She faced a crowded court room. Among the 200 or more spectators who occupied every available bit of space were long time friends and neighbors, whose faces were wreathed with hopeful smiles as she began her story. Ranged directly opposite her chair, within the enclosure and less than a dozen steps away, were the mother, the daughter and the husband of the woman whose life the state asserts she took.

Just before the defendant took the chair she crossed over to her mother, Mrs. Conklin, sitting at the counsel table, leaned over and kissed her.

"About a year ago."

What caused her suspicion she could not say. A woman did not cause it—"just rumors."

"Were the rumors about a woman?"

Was a Devil With the Girls.

"No. Just some one asking him about his girls. Somebody told me he was a devil with the girls."

She could not recall who told her this or where or when.

At Mr. Smith's bidding she named many men, friends of Dr. Carman, but could not name one of them as having said, "how are all your girls?"

"Somebody was asking him that question all the time," she said. "They were jesting. I thought at first, but after a while I thought maybe there might be some truth in what they said. They would say to me, 'the doctor is some devil.'"

"Did you have an inclination to hear what the doctor had to say to his women patients?"

"In a way, yes. Some of his patients."

"Did you ask him where he was when he was out all night?"

"Yes, and he told me."

"Did you believe him?"

"Yes, sometimes."

"Did your suspicions increase with time?"

All Dispelled Now.

"They increased right up to the time of the murder. They have all been dispelled now."

"How long have you been in that frame of mind?"

"Ever since the terrible tragedy. What I heard, or rather what I didn't hear over the telephone instrument reassured me."

For several minutes Mrs. Carman sought to evade a direct answer to the district attorney's question as to whether she thought that her husband was truthful. Finally she said "No." She explained that she had no real reason to doubt him, however. She was suspicious at first of the women who called frequently at his office; finally she was suspicious of nearly all of his women callers.

"I got tired of hearing things," she said. "And the fact that a woman would come to his office afterwards was enough to make you suspicious. Were you suspicious of your husband or the women?" asked Mr. Smith.

"Both," said Mrs. Carman firmly.

Some Women More Attractive.

Some women, said Mrs. Carman, were more attractive to her husband than she was, she had thought. She did not know if there were more than one, but she wanted to find out. "I had no particular woman in mind," she said. Mr. Smith asked if she thought Mrs. Varance, the middle aged nurse, whose face she slapped, were more attractive than she.

Mrs. Carman smiled and answered "no."

Under the rapid volley of the district attorney's pitiless questions Mrs. Carman's color rose and fell. She bit her lips; she clenched her gloved hands. She appeared about to faint, but her bottle of smelling salts revived her. She was made to describe the entire scene with Mrs. Varance. She said she saw Dr. Carman give the nurse $15 and saw her kiss him afterwards. It was the passing of the money and not the kiss that disturbed her, she said.

"You didn't object to another woman kissing your husband in gratitude?"

"Oh, no," replied Mrs. Carman.

"How long after the passing of the money was the kiss administered?"

"A few minutes. They were sitting down along side each other at the time. Mrs. Carman said she did not rap on the window when the kiss was given, but waited until Mrs. Varance started to leave the office."

"You went pretty fast around the lawn to get to the door before Mrs. Varance, didn't you?"

"Yes."

In reply to an inquiry Mrs. Carman indicated that she slapped Mrs. Varance with the back of her hand.

"Now as to the night of the shooting," said Mr. Smith, "did you hear a shot?"

Didn't Hear a Shot.

"No. I heard some commotion."

"What?" shouted the district attorney.

"Well I don't know whether I heard or not. I heard a noise."

"And your curiosity was aroused?"

"Surely. It was an unusual sound."

She thought it had come from the rear of the house and it took her about a minute to get down stairs, she said. As she reached the head of the stairs she saw two women going down the hall, but she made no effort to find out who they were. After she went down stairs she walked into the waiting room and leaned against a mantel piece for a moment. She did not see any one down stairs and went directly up stairs again, after having stood by the mantel for two minutes, perhaps.

Mrs. Carman's cross examination ended at 11:35 o'clock. She had been on the witness stand then for an hour and thirty-five minutes. Her re-direct examination was then begun.

Tore Out Instruments.

Before she was excused Mrs. Carman described in detail how she tore out the telephone instruments and its wires between her room and the doctor's office and hid the wires, batteries, sound gatherer and the receiver in the garret under the floor.

"Mrs. Carman," said the district attorney, "if your suspicions were dispelled by what you heard over the instrument why did you buy the thing on June 23 when your lease on it had two more months to run?"

To this Mrs. Carman would give no direct answer, although the district attorney framed the question in several different ways.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

appeared about to faint, but her bottle of smelling salts revived her. She was made to describe the entire scene with Mrs. Varance. She said she saw Dr. Carman give the nurse $15 and saw her kiss him afterwards. It was the passing of the money and not the kiss that disturbed her, she said.

Didn't Hear a Shot.

"Surely. It was an unusual sound."

Mrs. Carman's cross examination ended at 11:35 o'clock. She had been on the witness stand then for an hour and thirty-five minutes. Her re-direct examination was then begun.

Tore Out Instruments.

Before she was excused Mrs. Carman described in detail how she tore out the telephone instruments and its wires between her room and the doctor's office and hid the wires, batteries, sound gatherer and the receiver in the garret under the floor.

"Mrs. Carman," said the district attorney, "if your suspicions were dispelled by what you heard over the instrument why did you buy the thing on June 23 when your lease on it had two more months to run?"

To this Mrs. Carman would give no direct answer, although the district attorney framed the question in several different ways.

Mrs. Carman said she learned the identity of the victim late Tuesday night. She said she felt sorry for the family of Mrs. Bailey, but that she had not expressed her sympathy to them because she "didn't feel at liberty to do so."

Daughter Next Witness.

Mrs. Carman's 10-year-old daughter Elizabeth was the next witness. In a childish treble she gave her version of what had happened in the Carman household the night of the murder. After dinner, she said, she had gone out and played on the lawn.

"Mother went upstairs," she continued. "My aunt and my grandmother were on the porch. Later I went into the parlor and started to practice on the piano. My mother told me to stop. Then I went into the diningroom, walked through the hall and sat in a chair in the diningroom. Presently I heard glass break and a shot. I met my aunt on the stairs. I went in my mother's room. My mother was there."

"When I ran back into the hall I saw my mother put on her slippers and kimono and I followed her downstairs. Then I went up again. When she came up in a minute I went into her room with her."

On cross-examination District Attorney Smith asked only one question. "Elizabeth, you are very fond of your mother, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir," she replied.

"That's all," said the prosecutor.

Aged Mother on Stand.

Just as Sarah A. Conklin, Mrs. Carman's mother, 73 years old, took the stand the defendant burst into tears. She buried her face in her handkerchief and her shoulders shook with sobs.

Mrs. Conklin's testimony corroborated that given by Mrs. Carman and Elizabeth.

Similar corroborative testimony was given by Mrs. Carman's sister, Mrs. Ida Powell.

Mrs. Carman on Stand.

Called to the witness stand at 4:42 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Carman, in her own behalf, entered a sweeping denial of the charge against her. Early in the morning of June 30 I went to New York," she testified. "I spent the day shopping. I returned to Freeport with a headache on a train at 6 o'clock."

"As soon as I got home I took off my coat and went to the supper table. I answered the front door once. I admitted a man I do not know. I still had the headache at this time. After supper I went right up to bed. I undressed and put my clothing away. Then I put on my night clothes and went to bed. I was ill. I heard Elizabeth playing the piano. I told her to stop. Soon after I heard a shot and some commotion down stairs. I sat up and put on my kimono. I saw my mother and my sister, and stairs into the pantry room. I could not see in the office. The door was closed. I heard the doctor talk then. I went back up stairs, thinking that everything was all right. I met Elizabeth on stairs. Soon after Mrs. Powell came up and told me that some woman had been shot in the office. Mrs. Conklin also came up."

The district attorney called about 9:30 o'clock that night. I went to bed at 10 o'clock. I had not been off the premises the whole night. The reason I did not go into the office was because Dr. Carman told me never to go into the office after we had the trouble with the nurse. We also had another difficulty about the office on other occasions.

When She Slapped Nurse.

"The last time I ever saw Mrs. Varance, the nurse, was in the office when I slapped her face. Dr. Carman and I had several spats over Mrs. Varance. She came to the office afterward and I did not think it was right. On the night I slapped her face I saw her first in the waiting room. Later I looked in, but she was not there. So I went out in the yard and looked into the doctor's office through the window."

"I saw them talking. Then Dr. Carman peeled $15 from a roll he took from his coat and gave it to the nurse. They kissed some more and Mrs. Varance kissed the doctor. Then I rapped on the window and went in. I said to the nurse: 'This is a nice way for a married woman and a married man to act.' Then I said to the doctor: 'So this is where your money goes.' Then I demanded the money and got it."

The Dictograph Incident.

"I told Mrs. Varance never to come to the house again. After it was all over Dr. Carman told me if I ever came into the office again he would leave me and break it all off."

"As to the telephone instrument, I had that installed because of stories I had heard. People would ask him how his girls were and he would stay out all night. I was not crazy jealous, but I wanted to find out if the stories were true. If they were I was determined to live under the same roof with Dr. Carman for my daughter's sake. But I resolved that I would never even speak to him again."

Mrs. Carman described how she bought the instrument and the demonstration that she had of it in the office in New York. She also described the conversation she had with the salesman. The salesman told her many places where the instruments had been installed. Continuing she said:

"He also told me of the difficulties the installers had overcome. The man assured me that one could be installed in my house without anybody knowing it. I told the man I could not have it known that there was any trouble in my house or about my life."

He wanted to sell me the instrument for $100. I told him that was too much so he said he would rent it for three months for $50. I told him if I could arrange to get my husband out of the house I would write him a letter and he could send the man to install it. I took Dr. Carman away while the thing was being put in."

"I saw the man again about three weeks later. I could not hear anything that went on in Dr. Carman's office. I told him that. He told me the instrument might have been placed wrong, but he gave me three dry batteries to make it stronger. I also got back the letter I had written him. I had some receipts for the money I had paid him. I burned those before the homicide."

"I took the instrument out the morning after the murder. I took parts of it before breakfast and parts later. I thought Dr. Carman had enough trouble on his hands."

"I did not know Mrs. Bailey. I had never seen her alive. I saw her dead body at the morgue three days after the murder. You (Mr. Levy) made me go there to make sure whether I knew the woman."

"I have never fired a gun or a pistol in my life," continued Mrs. Carman. "I know nothing about firearms."

"When I first saw you after the murder I knew I was under suspicion. I asked you to assist me if I needed an attorney."

Denies Negro Maid's Story.

"I did not go through the kitchen as Celia Coleman said. I did not say 'I shot him.' I did not come down in a kimono and a nightcap. I did not go in Dr. Carman's office at any time on June 30."

"I did not show Celia a revolver. The only revolver I ever handled was a little one the doctor kept in his bureau drawer. That was a tiny little one. I gave it to the district attorney. Celia Coleman did not speak the truth when she said she tried to keep me from going into the office. I did not tell Celia I would take care of her little boy if anything should happen to her. Neither did I ever give Celia $5 and tell her that was for keeping her mouth shut. I never winked at Celia when you were asking me questions. I did not tell Celia the day after the murder to call Mr. Conklin from the barn as I wanted him to get the revolver out of the house. I did not go to Celia's room the morning after the murder. I did not say 'I hope God will forgive me. Oh, why did I kill that woman?'"

Mrs. Carman then took off her gloves and exhibited her bare arms to the jury. "I never had any scars on them," she said. "They were not cut on the night of June 30."

the evening. Hon. J. M. Robinson accompanied the party to Decatur.

Hon. Lew G. Ellingham, secretary of state, was also in Fort Wayne and went to attend the meeting at Decatur. Richard M. Milburn, candidate for attorney general, was also in Fort Wayne during the day, but was unable, on account of other engagements, to stay for the evening meeting.

Judge John W. Eggman, of the Allen circuit court, will preside and will introduce the speakers. Mr. Taggart will be heard for the first time in Fort Wayne, as this is his first speaking tour in the many years that he has occupied a prominent place in Indiana politics.

In addition to democrats from Fort Wayne expected to be present at the speaking a big out-of-town crowd will attend. The speaking will begin at 8 o'clock and there will be no parade other than that from the hotel to the theater, which is to be led by the Jefferson drum corps.

signature of President Wilson. The taxes on beer and wine were in effect today, but the levy on tobacco will not go into effect until Nov. 1. The stamp taxes will date from December 1.

A spectacular feature of the situation yesterday was a dash by President Wilson in an automobile from a golf course to the capital to reach there in time to sign the war revenue bill before adjournment. The president rushed into the capitol followed by secret service men at 5:45 o'clock in the evening. Attired in his golf clothes and without his reading glasses, he hastened into the president's room, where the revenue measure, signed by Speaker Clark and Senator Clarke, president pro tempore of the senate, awaited him. Borrowing glasses from Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, the president signed the bill and several others which were waiting for him.

After an early conference at the white house today between President Wilson and Senators Kern and Overman, administration leaders were hopeful that congress would get out of the adjournment middle today and end its session. There were indications that Senator Smith, of Georgia, and other southern democrats who blocked the adjournment with a fight for legislation to relieve the cotton situation, might relax their filibuster. Republicans and democrats continued to quit the capital and a quorum of either house was not in the city.

HARRISON STREET BRIDGE TO BE THE LARGEST AND FINEST IN ALLEN COUNTY

A Red Cross flag now flies from the top of the grandstand of the Epsom annual race course, scene of the great annual derby. The buildings have been equipped as a war hospital.

Among the nations of Europe Turkey is the only one which does not fly the Red Cross in time of war. Instead the Turkish army medical corps used a red crescent on a white background.

Above is a tracing of the plans for the Harrison street bridge over the St. Mary's river in Fort Wayne. It will be not only the longest, but the finest arches Engineer A. W. Grosvenor, who drew the plans, has inserted above the terminals of the great arch two small of fifty feet each. The largest span will clear the channel of the St. Mary's. To overcome the effect of unbalanced arches the bridge to take care of flood flows is indicated by the line which shows the maximum stage of water at this point arches that preserve the harmony of the design and at the same time afford additional outlet for flood. The capacity of the bridge to take care of flood flows is indicated by the line which shows the maximum stage of water at this point during the unprecedented floods of March, 1913. The bridge is to be of concrete and the engraving illustrates what a stately and beautiful structure it is to be.

ALL HAVE TRY AT WAR SONGS

Writing Them is Favorite
Occupation in London
These Days.

London, Oct. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The common greeting in London is, "How are you getting along with your war song?" Every one is writing a war song, hoping to give Britain another "Marseillaise." But so far none of the recruiting songs which the music halls are trying to popularize have taken with the recruits, whose favorite remains the entirely unmartial, "It's a long, long way to Tipperary." The favorite whistling tune on the march is by all odds the "Marseillaise," although the soldiers' chorus from "Faust" and any spirited air has only to be started to be taken up by the entire line. This is why most of the war composers choose the old tunes rather than those made to order.

One amateur poet sent a set of verses to the Times with the chorus—

"Here's to Lord Kitchener, brown as the sun,
Gentle, persuasive and barney.
Giving his orders and getting them done,
All that he wants for the army."

In this case the writer's attempt to rhyme barney with army caused greater indignation among the untutored recruits than among the scholarly poets, for barney in common use means weak in the intellect.

Barney, however, is used in its correct sense by the brokers' battalion of the Glasgow stock exchange, who call themselves Cameron men. Their wail begins:

"Why did we join the Cameron men?
Why did we join the army?
Why did we come to Aldershot?
Because we're bally well barney.
Skilful and duff, skilful and duff,
Because we're bally well barney."

The Liverpool regiment has a distinctive marching song in the Lancashire dialect. It runs—

"We all coom fra' Lancashire,
We all coom fra' Lancashire.
Gradely fowk from a gradely place.
By gunn, we mean to show the pace.
We all coom fra' Lancashire,
We're all bairns of a feyther.
If thal' ha' one wif me,
Then I'll ha' one wif thee,
For we're all good pals together."

There are many songs in dialect by which commands from certain provincial points identify themselves. Of the purely patriotic songs, by far most popular is "Rule Britannia."

THEY GET ALONG SPLENDIDLY.

Divorced Wife Lives as Good Neighbor to Her Successor.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 23.—After living for a year on the best of neighborly terms next door to her husband's divorced first wife, Mrs. Alpha Pergau has just requested the probate court to appoint her guardian of the divorced wife. This tangled tale of affections began several years ago when Mrs. Laura Pergau was sent to the hospital as insane. Later she was discharged, but would not go back to her husband, who thereupon secured a divorce. Last year he married again and gave his first wife a home next door to the one in which he installed his new bride.

He had the custody of the child, Viola Pergau, and the little girl's real mother used to run in daily as "Papa's" child, and to visit with Mrs. Alpha Pergau. Recently the first Mrs. Pergau has suffered a relapse, and the second wife wants to be made her guardian in order to protect her interests. Both mothers love the child, Viola, deeply.

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe cold or gripe in few hours.

Relief comes instantly.
A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Adv.

NO PROOF THAT MAN IS INSANE

Horsethief Willing to Put in Plea of Guilty With
Some Trimmings.

Sheridan Angle, who stole a horse and buggy from Robert Elliott, a Monroeville liveryman, September 17, went into the circuit court with his counsel Friday afternoon prepared to plead guilty to grand larceny and to put in a plea also that he is insane. When Deputy Prosecutor Frank R. Dulin got at the matter he rejected the arrangement. There was no proof that Angle is insane and he objected to the prisoner saying, "I'm guilty, I'm crazy." So he was taken back to jail. With a woman he claims is his wife Angle stole the Elliott horse and drove across Allen county to Ligonier, where he was captured. The Allen County Protective association performed good work in tracing the thief and bringing about his capture.

Charges Fraud in Transactions.
In a suit filed in the circuit court by the Hamilton National bank against Peter D. Smyser, Sarah E. Smyser, his wife, and Nathan S. Smyser, his son, the plaintiff asks judgment for $6,200 and the setting aside of a deed of conveyance and a mortgage. The complaint alleges that on July 23, 1914, Peter D. Smyser, as "Peter S. Smyser," gave S. Baah & Company a note for $5,000 and that the payee assigned and transferred the note for its full value to the Hamilton National bank. It is further alleged that on September 21, following, the defendant Smyser, with the fraudulent intent and purpose of cheating and defrauding the plaintiff in the collection of the note, without consideration sold and conveyed by deed to his wife the undivided one-half of lots 88 and 89 in Rockhill's addition, the property having a value of $20,000. It is also charged that on the same day and immediately prior to this transaction Peter D. Smyser executed to Nathan S. Smyser a mortgage purporting to secure a note for $1,370 executed by P. D. Smyser to his son without consideration. This and the conveyance are alleged to have been a conspiracy of the three to cheat and defraud the plaintiff. The complaint says that Peter D. Smyser is wholly insolvent and did not have at the time of the execution of the deed and mortgage, has not had at any time since and has not now sufficient other property subject to execution to pay his debts or from which the plaintiff's claim can be collected. The plaintiff therefore asks judgment for $6,200 on the note, plus that the deed to Mrs. Smyser and the mortgage to Nathan Smyser be declared fraudulent and void.

Notes of the Courts.
In the superior court Judge Yaple has granted a divorce to Elizabeth Bashara from Kaniel Bashara and ordered the defendant to pay her $3 a month for the support of a minor child. J. Couch & Son, importers of horses at Lafayette, have brought suit in the circuit court against William W. Driver to replevin an imported Belgian stallion and an imported Percheron stallion, valued at $1,800 and to recover $1,600 damages.

The superior court has dismissed the suit of Abraham Weil vs. the Michigan Central railroad.

The suit of John H. Aufferheide vs. Bessie Mace has been sent to Huntington county on a change of venue from the Allen superior court.

The suit of H. G. Raymond & Co. against the Home Supply company for damages, is on trial before Judge Pro Tem Sol A. Wood and a jury in the superior court.

The suit of J. J. Owens vs. Lyman Layton, et al., has been dismissed from the superior court.

In the case of Freese & Gale vs. Edwin L. Siekmeier, judgments were given in the superior court for the defendants in the sums of $21.15 and $101.72. The receiver in the case made a final report and was discharged.

August Bux was given judgment for $500 against L. J. Libbing for injuries received while riding in the defendant's automobile. The case was filed in the superior court.

JUDGE YAPLE'S MOTHER HURT.
Judge Carl Yaple will go to Mendon, Mich., early Saturday morning to visit his mother, Mrs. George L. Yaple, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident Thursday evening. The car, belonging to the judge's brother, Edward L. Yaple, was overturned in a collision and the aged Mrs. Yaple sustained three broken ribs and internal injuries. Judge Yaple had expected to leave Friday afternoon for Mendon, but misinformation as to the leaving time of a train caused him to be delayed. Hon. Sol A. Wood is sitting as judge pro tem in the superior court.

TWICE A WOMAN HAS COME INTO HIS LIFE; EACH TIME HE FAILS TO ESCAPE.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 23.—Twice a woman has come into the life of Routledge to stay, despite his efforts to escape after more or less ardent courtships.

The first time was up in Alaska, where the gruff miners one day came to him and, taking the man by the arm, said it was either marriage or the rope.

The second time was here. And here the woman has taken him by the arm, saying it's either marriage or a $25,000 breach of promise suit.

In both instances his efforts to escape, when he had tired of the object of his love, were frustrated.

For two years J. Ira Routledge courted Mrs. Etta M. Weller, she says. He made ardent love to her, told her he wanted to make her his wife and that he could never live without her. Then for two years he tried to "shake" her. But she wouldn't be "shook" and now he faces a $25,000 breach of promise suit in the circuit court. J. Ira Routledge is associated with the Routledge Seed company.

THE BERLIN STATEMENT.
Berlin, Oct. 23.—(Via London, 5:10 p. m.)—An official announcement from German headquarters dated Oct. 23 says:

"On the Yser canal yesterday we gained successes.

"To the south of Dixmude our troops advanced.

"On the west of Lille our attacks were successful. We took possession of five villages.

"On the rest of the western front it is generally quiet.

"In the eastern theater of war the Russian attacks near West Augustowo have been repulsed. We captured several machine guns.

"There is no definite news from the southeastern field of the war."

Routledge worked in a small Alaskan town a few years ago. He became acquainted with a woman there. One day the gruff Alaskan miners took Routledge by the arm and told him it was either marriage or the rope.

"We went through a form of marriage, but it wasn't legal," Routledge told Mrs. Weller, according to her story. "We aren't really legally married."

After he had told her of his affair with the Alaskan woman he begged her to wait a while longer and he would get rid of the woman. Finally, at Mrs. Weller's insistence, a wedding date was set for June 20, 1914. June 30 came, but Routledge didn't. Mrs. Weller was broken-hearted. On July 8 she called him up at his home. There was no answer.

Mrs. Weller is 41 years old. Routledge, she says, is 49, and the Alaskan woman about 51.

Mrs. Weller first learned Routledge was a married man from friends. When she asked him if her friends had told the truth, he took her into a room on the steamer Potter and talked to her all night, she says.

POSSE RESUMES BANDIT CHASE

Blaine, Wash., Oct. 23.—American and Canadian posse officers resumed today their chase of the three bandits who were captured yesterday after a battle with a posse three miles north of the international line in which one bandit was killed and one wounded and one member of the posse, a Canadian immigration inspector, also lost his life. The officers believe they have cut off the bandits' retreat and that they will be captured today. The men robbed the Canadian bank of Sedro-Woolley, Wash., of $20,000 last Saturday night.

Bothered by Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Head or Chest Colds

Try the New External Treatment—Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Stomach Dosing.

For years we have been doing ourselves to cure cold troubles despite the fact that vapor treatments are quicker and do not disturb the stomach. The trouble has been that the old methods of administering these vapors such as vapor lamps, etc., were very cumbersome. Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve contains Menthol, Thymol, Eucalyptol, Camphor, and Pine Tar, combined by a special process, so that they are vaporized when Vick's is applied to the heat of the body. These vapors open the air passages, loosen the phlegm, and heal the inflamed mucous membrane.

For Catarrh and Head Colds melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors. Also apply well up the nostrils. For Asthma and Hay Fever follow the above instructions and also rub well over the spinal column, thus relaxing the nervous tension. For Bronchitis, Sore Throat, and deep chest colds, apply well over chest and throat, first opening the pores by applications of hot wet towels. Then cover with a warm flannel cloth, leaving the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be inhaled all night long. In addition Vick's is absorbed through the pores, taking out the tightness and soreness. Three sizes—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

HOST TO PARTY OF DISPATCHERS

Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate and G. R. & I. Men Guests of H. E. Hart.

The Pennsylvania division special train, consisting of engine "Isabel" and the inspection coach, left the city at 7:30 o'clock this morning for Valparaiso, carrying the greatest number of train dispatchers ever assembled for a similar purpose in Fort Wayne. In the party are all the second and third trier operators of the Pennsylvania, the Grand Rapids and Indiana and the Nickel Plate. Chief Dispatcher H. E. Hart, of the Pennsylvania, is chairman of the party and with him are Chief Dispatchers J. F. Betts, of the G. R. & I.; David H. Caldwell, of the Nickel Plate; A. C. Twining, chief clerk in the Pennsylvania trainmaster's office; Division Operator H. B. Reynolds, Power Dispatchers A. J. Marty and J. P. Shea, and Train Dispatchers L. R. Young, C. T. Toothill, T. F. Quinn, C. F. Barralder, C. A. Hite, W. J. Newman, T. E. Blackwell, W. E. Teeters, G. S. Gerren and H. B. Gashert, of the Pennsylvania; Train Dispatchers L. A. Harpstein, G. N. Coates, G. B. McHugh, S. B. Eckenrode and C. A. Sweeney, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road; Train Dispatchers F. C. Evans, J. L. Carney, E. G. Whitaker and R. F. Gale, of the Nickel Plate. Chief Dispatcher George Robinette, of the Nickel Plate, had business at the office which would not permit his absence and he is not with the party; much to the regret of all. The program is a run to Valparaiso, taking notes of things of interest to men who have the responsible work of directing trains over a great railway system, and a big dinner at Montdale, five miles east of Valparaiso, returning here in time for the second trier dispatchers to report for duty at the regular hour—3 o'clock in the afternoon.

MAY HAVE TWO TRAINS.

Inquiries at Nickel Plate Office Indicate Crowd to Cleveland.

The order for cars for the Cleveland excursion over the Nickel Plate tomorrow has been increased from twelve to fourteen. This was on account of the apparent interest taken in the excursion and the prospects of a crowd that could not be comfortably handled by a less number of cars. There is also a likelihood of another train being put

Why Let a Terrible Cough Hang On and Wear You Out?

Loosen Its Grip with that Wonderful Throat and Lung Medicine, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.

Coughs that "hang on" mostly settle on the lungs, and they fairly eat the life out of you. They use up your strength, lower your vitality, and pave the way for serious lung and bronchial diseases.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound leaves healing behind it as it slides down your throat. It covers raw, inflamed, irritated surfaces with a soothing healing coating. It stops the itching, loosening cough, and eases stuffy wheezy breathing.

WILL G. RICHMOND, Ingleswood, Cal., says: "FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR acts so well in harmony with nature, it is more like a food than a medicine."

E. J. SARGENT, Dallas, Texas, writes: "I had a terrible cough which would not let up. I spent much money and tried many kinds of treatment, but found nothing which would cure me. At last I tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and it completely relieved me of all bad symptoms and my cough entirely disappeared."

For all coughs, colds, croup, bronchial affections, la grippe, hoarseness, and lung trouble, you will find it a medicine without a peer. Every good druggist is glad to sell it for it gives satisfaction to his customers and contains no opiates. You cannot get a substitute to do for you what FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR will do. 25c, 50c, $1.00 sizes.

on, to start from Leipzig, but this matter will not be decided until later. This is the first and will probably be the last cheap excursion out of Fort Wayne this fall and realizing this fact, the people are going to take advantage of the opportunity for a couple days in Cleveland at a nominal cost. The Nickel Plate has gotten out posters, giving a list of the attractions at Cleveland, including a foot ball game Saturday afternoon between Wooster and Chase universities. Conductor E. W. Hinde will have charge of the special train which leaves the city at 7 o'clock in the morning. No. 2, leaving at 3:05, will also carry excursionists.

LOCKED UP AT WARSAW.

John Elvin Raised Disturbance in Pennsylvania Depot.

John Elvin, released from jail here Thursday morning, after serving a short sentence for drunkenness, is in jail at Warsaw, serving out a sentence of $10 and costs for being found intoxicated in a railway depot and creating a disturbance, imposed by Mayor Richardson. Irvin resides in Gary and started for that city yesterday. He went no farther than Warsaw, however, where he became offensive in the company's depot. Lieutenant E. A. Clark was there and he ran the fellow in, after a vain attempt to quiet him and persuade him to go to his home in Gary. Another man arrested by Lieut. Clark at Warsaw, on charge of being on a railway train in an intoxicated condition, was Henry Hefelt. He received a fine of $1 and costs and is boarding it out.

WILL BE DR. SCHULZ'S GUESTS.

In the party which will leave the city at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning will be Dr. Schulz, W. F. Melching, Robert O. Orr, Jacob Hartman and Herbert Jesse. The trip to the lake will be made in Dr. Schulz's automobile.

A car in a Pennsylvania freight train was derailed at Atwood yesterday afternoon in such a manner as to block both tracks over an hour and one of the tracks two hours. MRS. C. A. STEGNER.

A happy family gathering with the special significance of twenty-five years of married life was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stegner, of 2836 Pittsburg street, Friday. Participating in the event were relatives of whom the children of Mr. and Mrs. Stegner, numbering eight and all of the city, were the chief assistants. There were relatives present from Cleveland, Chicago, Logansport and Indianapolis, making in all a company of seventy-five who enjoyed the celebration of the day. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Stegner are Mrs. Albert Langer, Misses Gertrude, Elfrida, Louise, Constance and Lorraine Stegner and Eugene and Carl Stegner. Before her marriage Mrs. Stegner was Miss Louise Rebling, of this city, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rebling. Rev. Henry G. Sauer officiated at the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Stegner announced at the gathering the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Gertrude Stegner to Rev. Theodore Prinz, pastor of a Lutheran church in Cleveland. The house was beautifully decorated for the day with branches of autumn foliage of bright colors, littersweet berries, chrysanthemums and ferns. The wedding cake was trimmed with silver ornaments. Mr. and Mrs. Stegner are prominent residents of the east side. Mr. Stegner has been in the drygoods business in Lafayette street for twenty-six years and his business success has been continuous for he has the confidence of many patrons. The time of the marriage of Miss Stegner and Rev. Mr. Prinz will be announced later.

and brother of the groom, were the attendants. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to the immediate relatives. Later in the day the bride and groom went to Mansfield, O., to visit the groom's parents for two weeks. When the bride and groom return they will go to house-keeping at 716 Home avenue. Mr. Schott is in the employ of the Pettit storage plant. Both bride and groom are popular with their many friends.

Vonderan-Gallmeier.

Miss Tena Gallmeier and Mr. Martin Vonderan were united in marriage on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Geoghegan by Rev. Paul Miller at 2 o'clock. Miss Doris Vonderan and Mr. Martin Hockmeyer were bridesmaid and groomsmen. The bride wore a white charming gown and veil made in cap effect and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in pink and her flowers were pink roses. The wedding supper was bountiful and of delicious preparation. About seventy-five guests attended the wedding.

Shady-Baker.

Two young people who have not been residents of this city for many months and who were married at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon were Miss Josephine Baker and Mr. Oscar Shady. Rev. M. L. Buckley, pastor of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, officiated at the marriage ceremony at his residence in Maple avenue. The bride was formerly of Mercer county, Ohio, and the groom came here from Decatur. Mr. Shady works for the Fort Wayne Electric company.

AT THE TEMPLE.

The week-end program of amusement at the Temple is a go, as is indicated by the waves of delighted applause that greeted every act on the opening day of the bill's engagement. From "The Theatrical Agent," the novel ventriloquist act in which Hugh McCormick and Grace Wallace are headlining the bill, down to the movie show bill pleases. McCormick and Wallace are both ventriloquists of a high order and in their skit they have evolved some clever stuff to display their abilities. Robert Hall, an extemporaneous singer, who marches out onto the stage and starts singing about anything he thinks of "had 'em going" last night with his clever verse improvised on the spur of the moment. The bill closes with a strong man act that is a polished line of athletic artistry. Davies and Romanelli are finished athletes in this line, the Romanelli husky possessing a back and pair of arms that are almost unbelievably powerful. He tosses his heavy partner from one hand-stand to another with an ease and precision that makes their act a delight to watch.

AT THE EMPRESS.

The Empress management wishes to state, just as emphatically as it possibly can, that the bill now on view at the Empress is honestly and positively the best of the season. Not one weak act appears on the whole bill and each act, in fact, would be worthy to be a headliner on any ordinary bill. The opening number is that of the Ward Sisters. One of the young ladies weighs but ninety-eight pounds. As she walks through the audience she invites members of the audience to lift her. This they do easily enough at first, but a second later when they are invited to try again, they find it impossible to budge her. Miss Ward defies gravity. Second on the bill comes Sampson and Douglas with an entertaining potpourri of whimsicalities. Third on the bill comes the headline act, Harry Gerard and company in "The Luck of a Totem." There are seven people in the cast, every one of whom is a singer and actor of great merit. The best trio ever heard here is that of Sherman, Van and Hyman. They do imitations of sasses singing songs and of Frenchmen getting off a French song in a manner to make everyone hilarious. The act peculiar, sensational and unusual is that of Swain's cats and rats. Here are cats and rats who are actually educated, who perform tricks and who are trained with the best of them.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE BRIDE OF MARBLEHEAD."
A Strong Story of Love in a Fishing Village at Orpheum.

A strong, interesting drama in two reels, from the Victor studios, entitled "The Bride of Marblehead," will be one of the attractions at the Orpheum theater this afternoon and evening.

It is another success for those prominent screen artists, Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby, who are featured in this play. The settings are unusually realistic, being taken from fishing villages on the New England coast.

"Cupid Pulls a Tooth," a Nestor comedy with Eddie Lyons and Victoria Forde in the leading roles, will also be shown this afternoon and evening.

The orchestra and Miss Lyons have arranged a fitting musical program.

There will be shown tomorrow a three reel Bison feature, entitled "The Mysterious Hand," another of the "My Lady Raffles" series, in which Grace Cunard and Francis Ford are featured. The play, in which My Lady outwits a famous detective, is unusually thrilling.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

When silk is spotted with grease rub it with French chalk or magnesia, then hold the spotted portion near the fire. The chalk will absorb the grease and can be brushed off, taking the grease with it.

Here is a trick learned from an old umbrella repairer. Instead of gluing on the handle of an umbrella which is not wearing well try winding a thread around the stick, and then screw on the handle.

Harvest social at First Baptist church tonight. Everybody invited.

Before attempting to draw the threads in hemstitching, wet a small brush, rub it over a bar of soap until a lather is produced and scrub the threads of the linen you wish to draw. You will find the threads will pull out easily.

COLLINS SLATED FOR WASHINGTON

Athletic Second Baseman
May Succeed Clark Griffith.

Washington, Oct. 23—Eddie Collins, regarded as one of the greatest ball players the game has ever developed, will not be a member of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield next season. According to a report which was current among high baseball officials in attendance at the world series a deal will be made this winter whereby Collins will become manager of the New York Americans, for which team he will, of course, play second base.

It is not a secret that Collins has been in disfavor with Connie Mack during the greater part of the past season. Mack had Collins signed to a three-year contract calling for $18,000. But an offer from the Federal league caused Collins to insist on a new contract from the Philadelphia club, and he is now under a contract calling for $8,000 a year for

A period of three years. This salary is thought exorbitant by Mack, who insists that he cannot pay such salaries because of the poor support his Athletics are getting, so he is said to have agreed to part with Collins to the New York club, which needs a manager.

The Philadelphia club is to be compensated for Collins by the seven other clubs of the league, who, of course, realize that to have Collins in charge of the New York club will make that team a better attraction both at home and Eddie Collins, has for several years been considered the star of the Athletics' $300,000 infield. His loss to the team naturally would make a great difference in its strength, but would be a general benefit because it would bring the Athletics down to where they would be nearer equal in strength to some of the other teams.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By M. O. SELLERS, Director Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 25

JESUS AND JUDAS.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 26:14-25, 47-50; Mt. 26:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Woe unto that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed. Matt. 26:42 R. V.

No literature has a more terrible story than that of Judas. Matthew gives us perhaps the fullest account of his last acts and the part he had in those final hours of the suffering and death of Jesus.

Mary's act of anointing, by Jesus commended, and by Judas condemned, caused the latter to fare forth for his final act of faithless infamy. Contrasted with the odor of her good deed, we here have the stench of an evil deed.

I. The Bargain, vv. 14-25. (1) The Price, vv. 14-16. Disappointed in his hopes that Jesus would establish an earthly kingdom wherein he should hold a high position, stung by the rebuke of vv. 10-13 (cf. John 12:4-8) and moved by cupidity, Judas hurries to the enemies of Jesus (see John 18:27). He saw no further opportunity to profit through "holding the bag," John 18:29, and so got what he could from the rulers. He estimated his worth at 30 pieces of silver about seventeen or nineteen dollars, or the value of a slave; see Ex. 21:22 and Phil. 2:7, also the prophecy of Zechariah 11:12-13. Hate, envy, disappointed ambition, and cupidity drove Judas with relentlessness in his final act of infamy. Verily, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," Gal. 6:7. (2) The Penalty, vv. 17-25. As we read the various accounts of that tragic last night we note that being warned and singled from among the other disciples in no wise moved Judas to repentance. The conspiracy, see Matt. 26:1-5, 14-16, had been consummated before that last meeting in the upper room.

Must Be Born Again.

Even grace cannot save us in our sins. All of his gifts, his nearness to the Son of God, his knowledge, first handed, of those marvelous teachings of Jesus, did not grip his heart. Head knowledge alone never saved anyone. It is not enough even to be numbered among the disciples. There must be a new creation. We must be born again, John 3:7. In verse 24 we read the final warning and John tells us (13:27) that following these words he is commanded to "go out quickly."

II. The Betrayal, vv. 47-50. There are four stages in this episode: (1) In the house of Simon at the anointing of Jesus by Mary; (2) The one just considered and which took place in the "upper room" in connection with the Passover feast; (3) The third is the subject of this paragraph and took place in the Garden following the events of last week's lesson. This picture has been painted so often as to be familiar to us all. The Son of Man, the advancing apostate disciple, the mob; what an appalling scene. Judas had probably led first to the house whence he had left Jesus. Finding Jesus and the disciples had departed (v. 30) he knew where, in all probability, he would find the Master. It was a familiar resort for Jesus and his disciples, John 18:2, 3. Judas had often sat under these same olive trees and listened to him who "taught as never man taught." It was also a place sacred to prayer. How things are changed. Judas had allowed Satan to enter his heart (John 13:27, see also James 4:7) and with eager feet he crosses the brook Kedron, past the disciples and into the presence of Jesus to betray him with a kiss.

The Final Stage.

III. "He Went and Hanged Himself" 27:1-10. The fourth and final stage is reached when, seeing that Jesus is condemned and about to be executed, Judas, filled with remorse, carried back the 30 pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders. What an exhibition of hypocrisy they evidenced, not to take the price of blood, forsooth! Judas did not really repent. The word here used for "repent" is rather that he suffered remorse, and that does not necessarily involve repentance as we all know. Had he truly repented he would not have hanged himself and he would have been saved even as the repentant thief was saved.

There is no necessary contradiction between this and the account given in Acts 1:18. "If he hanged himself in the 'field of blood' and the rope broke the account given in Acts would naturally follow."

The Teaching. As we recall these final things in the life of Judas we must remember that they are not the beginnings of his defection. The development of the lives of Judas and Peter are profoundly different. Both looked for a temporal kingdom and both were out of sympathy with the teachings of Jesus as to the necessity of his death. One, for personal gain, betrayed, and the other, for self-protection, denied his Lord. When Judas saw Jesus condemned, he too saw the end of his dreams the same as Peter. In that hour he committed suicide, an act of cowardice of the worst kind.

TELLS HOW TO BUY VEGETABLES

Schools in New York Are Circulating Notices to Families.

New York, Oct. 22.—George W. Perkins, New York financier and chairman of Mayor Mitchell's committee on food supply, has asked the schools of New York to circulate the following notice to families that may be affected by the threatened financial crisis.

"We may confront a critical winter," declared Mr. Perkins, "and we must prepare to meet the situation by learning how to save and to buy wisely." This is some of the advice offered by the circular:

"In buying vegetables, select them yourself and see that they are fresh. This is important. There are tricks in all trades, including the vegetable trade.

"You will get more potatoes if you buy them by the weight and not by the measure.

"Never buy sprouting potatoes. Serious illness has been known to follow their use.

"In buying potatoes, ask your dealer to cut one in half. Take the two halves and put them together. If they are juicy enough to stick together you have a good potato.

"In buying cabbage, get a hard, heavy head, with crisp white leaves and with the stalk cut close to the head. Many a large head of cabbage looks heavy but on taking it in your hand you will find it is very light.

"In buying beets, choose those with dirty roots and fresh green leaves. This shows they have not been soaked to freshen them.

"In buying winter squash, choose one that has no soft spots. Choose a medium-size one; the larger ones are very seedy.

"In buying celery, choose a bunch with crisp white leaves. Use the outside pieces for soup and the inside pieces for the table."

CLOVER LEAF IS SUED.

Violations of Crew Service Act Alleged by Government.
Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—Suit for judgment of $3,000 has been filed against the Toledo, St. Louis and Western (Clover Leaf) Railroad company by Frank O. Duiley, United States attorney for Indiana. It is charged that the railroad violated an order of the interstate commerce commission by failing to report within thirty days following the end of a month the violators, occurring in the month of an act limiting the hours of service of trainmen. The act provides against members of train crews being kept at work continuously more than sixteen hours. The suit contains thirty counts, and judgment of $100 is asked on each count.

E. L. Hobson, who lives a mile east of Fort Wayne on the Maysville road, brought to Fort Wayne Thursday twenty-one Irish potatoes that weighed 23½ pounds, an average of a little more than a pound each. These were picked from some late potatoes raised on his farm, their growth having been greatly aided by the fall rains. The entire crop was of excellent quality and the big fellows were presented to the members of the Fort Wayne Sentinel editorial staff.

Trustee Henry Branning reports that so far during the month of October there have been but two applications for admission to the Allen County fair. The first was from the Allen County fair association, which was at French Lick.

BUTLER STREET MAY BE OPENED

Project for Cutting Thoroughfare from Calhoun to Clinton.

Interested property owners are furthering a project to open East Butler street from Calhoun street to Clinton street and thus join the east and west sections of that thoroughfare to make it continuous from Fairfield avenue to Lafayette street. The street was never opened from Calhoun street to Clinton. The proposed opening is through a part of Hamilton's fourth addition to the city and that addition was never platted, but was cut into lots determined by metes and bounds and sold. The part needed for a street consists of four lots, two fronting on Calhoun street and having a width of 29 and 31 feet, and two fronting on Clinton street and having a width of 30 feet each. Each lot is the site of a residence and all of them are houses of substantial character. The cost of the opening would be considerable. That the street has never been opened through this one block during all the years that the addition has been a part of the city is more or less of a puzzle and the proposed improvement would add greatly to the general convenience and would much enhance the value of property in the immediate vicinity. The proposal may be brought before the board of works at an early day.

HOLD UP BEQUEST A WEEK.

Board of Works Will Examine Remonstrance Against Extension.

WANTS WORK HURRIED ALONG.

General Manager Wood, of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, who was in the city Thursday, inspected the situation at the Main street subway, where the railroad is to build a new bridge over the city street. He was accompanied by the railroad's chief engineer, who took occasion to urge the contractors for the work, all of which is to be done and completed by November 1, to make all possible haste to complete the improvement. The railroad bridge over Main street is to be reconstructed with concrete abutments and massive T-beams and the roadway beneath is to be widened, the grade changed and sidewalks built.

On Saturday morning Governor Samuel M. Ralston, Dr. A. F. Nelson, state veterinarian, and Dr. F. A. Baber, his assistant, will meet a number of stockmen at the governor's office in the state house at Indianapolis to decide on what action is to be taken to prevent the spread of foot and mouth disease among the cattle of northern Indiana.

The meeting here was the direct result of the threatened quarantine against all Indiana cattle by the federal government. Information conveyed to Mr. Ralston is to the effect that the disease exists in Laporte and St. Joseph counties and has so far been confined to this section of the state.

Dr. Nelson has been notified that unless action is taken at once the federal government will be compelled to establish quarantine.

"FORT WAYNE IN 1916" THE CRY

Delegates in Effort to Secure Christian Endeavor Convention.

Word from one of the delegates from this city to the biennial Christian Endeavor state convention in session at Logansport states that the local delegates are working hard to land the 1916 state convention for Fort Wayne. Other cities who are making strong bids for the next meeting are Muncie, Marion and Terre Haute.

In an effort to strengthen the chance of landing the convention here nine Christian Endeavor societies of the city sent telegrams to the convention church to the chairman of the committee to select the place, asking that the committee should consider Fort Wayne. Those delegates who are in attendance from this city are A. Leslie Jacobs, Ina Maxwell, Esther Fritz, Clarence Aiken and Ethel Kirby. Over 500 delegates are in attendance at this meeting which is presided over by Rev. H. B. Hostetter, of South Bend.

HELD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

New Members Are Admitted by First Baptist Bible Class.

The Men's Bible class of the First Baptist Sunday school had a very enthusiastic gathering at their business meeting in the church parlors Thursday evening—about fifty men being present. Several new members were taken in, also stirring and optimistic talks as to the future of the class and the possibilities for doing big things were given by Brothers Farr and Harrod.

After the regular business session an instructive and interesting talk was given by Judge Ellison on the new constitution for the state of Indiana. Following this talk all the men gathered around the tables and enjoyed a social time—sort of get-acquainted stunt—with some genuine October refreshments—pumpkin pie, doughnuts and sweet cider.

FAKE, SAYS MUNSTERBERG.

Denies Authorship Ascribed to Him in Cologne Newspaper.

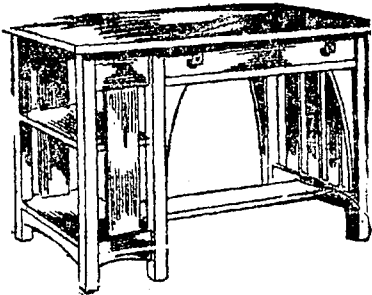

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23.—Authorship of a letter reported in Amsterdam cable dispatches to have been published in the Cologne Gazette over the signature of Hugo Munsterberg, in which the writer deplored the trend of American sentiment against Germany, was emphatically denied by the Harvard professor today. After the Amsterdam dispatch had been read to him, Prof. Munsterberg said: "It is an absolute fake. I never have written such a letter to the Cologne Gazette or to any other paper or journal in Germany or America."

GONE UP IN SMOKE

One-half of your coal—and it did you no good. Hard luck that. But there is a way to fix it. Here's how:

That stove of yours has seen its best days. You need a new one. You know it—but you have let things drift along.

Meanwhile, you have been losing HALF of every hod of coal you have put in it. Of course, you knew it, but you did not think of it that way. You know that half of every lump is gas. Fail to burn that gas and it is like throwing into the ditch half of every dollar you spend in coal.

Rather extravagant? Yes?

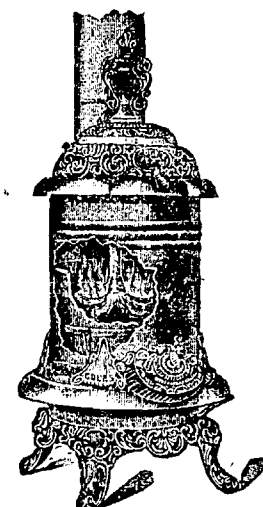

The ordinary stove made of a lot of separate castings leaks air. They leak air at the wrong place. Places you can not control.

RESULT—the best part of your coal—the 14,000 cubic feet of common illuminating gas that is in the average ton of $3.00 soft coal—goes up the flue unburned.

You have lost it. It has gone up in smoke.

Save that gas—mix it properly with air and you have the hottest kind of a blue flame. But there is only one way to do this—

Buy the only heater that is made tight—holds tight—stays tight.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

It leaks no air.

This is the heater that mixes the gas and air and gives you all the heat in the coal.

This is the heater that burns any kind of coal and makes a ton of $3.00 soft coal do the work of $8.00 hard coal in a high priced base burner.

This is the heater that is a joy and comfort to the housewife. It makes no dirt or smoke in the house.

This is the heater that saves labor—fix it in the morning and at night and FORGET IT THE REST OF THE TIME.

This is the heater that gives a steady, constant heat from soft coal or lignite.

This is the heater that will hold its fire untouched for a day and a half.

This is the heater we sell you under a guarantee that is as "good as old wheat at the mill." Burns soft coal, lignite, slack, hard coal or wood.

It is just the kind of a heater you want. Come in and see it.

See the name "Cole's" on the feed door of each stove.

LORIMER BEATS IT INTO COURT

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Capitales were being prepared today for the arrest of former United States Senator William Lorimer, Charles B. Munday and twelve other officials of the LaSalle Street bank and allied interests against whom indictments were returned yesterday charging them with looting the bank. The aggregate of the bonds demanded of the defendants is $275,000.

The first of the indicted men to surrender was John B. Devoney, former president of the International Trust and Savings bank. Lorimer's attorney telephoned the chief bailiff to hold up the capias for his client as the latter would appear in court this afternoon but the bailiff said the ordinary routine of service would be followed.

The former senator beat the process server into court and provided bonds of $25,000. He was, William and sev-

BULLETIN.

Biarritz, France, Oct. 23.—(Via Paris, 3:10 p. m.)—There is no truth in the report of the death of Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico. Senor Diaz has been suffering from a slight gastric trouble, but he has driven out daily for several days past and this morning he took a walk on the beach.

FORCES WILL BE TRAINED IN WORK

Sunday School Teachers' Institutes to Be Held This Winter.

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—The 5,215 Sunday schools of Indiana, with a teaching force of about 60,000, will this winter give much attention to the training of teachers already in service and those who are ambitious to take charge of classes. Unlike the public schools of the state, the Sunday schools have no great normal schools or other institutions supported by the taxpayers to high turn for trained teachers, and not one of the teachers receives pay for service, although some of them have been teaching for many years. But the Sunday schools have well defined methods for training their own teachers. Scores of individual schools have their own training classes. In some communities the teachers are combined in training schools, and during the coming winter more effective methods of instructing and enthusing teachers how to teach will be worked out in city institutes, to which all church and Sunday school workers will be admitted.

One of the largest of these institutes is now in progress at Indianapolis, the course of study covering ten weeks, and several hundred workers are enrolled for the work, which covers all lines of church and Sunday school activities, with highly proficient instructors in charge of each department. Another of these schools has been organized at Plymouth, to continue through the winter.

In all the schools, teacher training courses of study prescribed by the Indiana Sunday School association, with headquarters at Indianapolis, are followed. Examinations are held and diplomas are awarded the efficient teachers, so they go into Sunday school work with the standard of mental equipment required of a teacher in the public schools.

The state association is very compactly organized, with county, township and individual school organizations all working to the same end. Each school of the association studies the same lessons, and in a period of years the entire Bible is covered. Each year, too, the pupils of a class are graduated to a higher class, and the ultimate goal of the Sunday school is to lead the pupils into church membership. Over 27,000 of them entered the church from the Sunday school last year, yet continued their active identification with the Sunday school work.

In the institute work, the state association is helping the cities in a number of ways—mapping out programs and lines of study, suggesting executive plans for managing the institutes, providing special speakers. The public libraries of every town in Indiana may be drawn upon for much of the reference work, and the vast resources of the Indiana state library are also available by mail. Ten institutes are all self-supporting, with insignificant cost to those who enter.

SUGGEST A STORK STRIKE.

Ohio Women Advance New Theory to Stop Wars.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 23.—A "stork strike" was endorsed by over 900 delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention here as a means of forcing the nations of the world to stop warfare. The suggestion was offered by Mrs. Viola Romans, of Columbus, state secretary of the W. C. T. U. Among those who spoke in favor of it was Mrs. Ricketts Such, prominent Cincinnati clubwoman.

"Women suffer agony to bring children into the world and the European war has proved that these children may be fed to cannon and shrapnel any time," said Mrs. Snell. "Men do not understand the value of human life in the terms that women do."

"Men of France have even offered the vote to French women if they will permit their 16-year-old sons to go to battle."

"If all women would only band together and refuse to supply the armies of the world with men I think that we could stop wars."

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Renewal of demand from Europe rallied the wheat market today after an early setback due largely to speculative selling pressure. The bulls were helped by advices that despite recent rains there was no likelihood of any exportable surplus in Australia. After opening 1/4c off to 1/2c up and suffering a partial decline all around the market rose to well above last night's level.

Closing prices were steady at an advance of 1/4c to 1/2c.

"Nervous" weather had a bullish effect on corn. Crop damage reports from Argentina with news from the Germans sinking steamers in the South American trade, counted also against the bears. The opening, which was unchanged to 1/4c, was followed by a decided upturn.

The close was nervous, 3/4¢ to 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ above last night.

Cattle swayed with wheat. Price changes, however, were narrow and business not very broad.

Provisions were steadied by the firmness of the hog market. The chief demand was for lard.

For Indiana and Lower Michigan: Unsettled tonight and Saturday with probably rain.

For Ohio: Increasing cloudiness to night; Saturday unsettled, with probably local rains; cooler in north and west portions Saturday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Except for some rains over the south Atlantic coast districts, fair weather has continued over the states east of the Mississippi. Over the plains and Rocky mountain region cloudy and unsettled weather has continued with quite heavy rainfalls. Denver and Galveston report more than an inch.

Unusually warm weather, however, for the season continues throughout the central states and no frosts are reported between the Alleghenies and the Rockies.

Over the northwestern cooler weather is general this morning, with freezing weather reported from northern Montana and the British northwestern, Calgary reporting a temperature as low as 22 degrees.

Fair and warm weather will continue in the section tonight, but cloudy and cooler weather will overspread this section by Saturday when rain is probable.

FRANCE SENDS 50,000 MORE

London, Oct. 23.—(4:35 a. m.)—New forces are ready to join General Joffre's armies, says a Bordeaux dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

"This year's recruits, after two months' training, are now fit to bear arms. They are excellent material, young and enthusiastic and will be joined at the front by a section of the reserves not yet called to the colors, representing probably nearly half a million entirely fresh troops."

A dispatch from Rotterdam to the Daily Telegraph states that the British army is continuing.

Mother-Teacher to Fight for Rights

New York, Oct. 21.—New York faces another mother-teacher problem. Mrs. Lorna M. Wagner, a teacher in the Curtis high school, places motherhood above teacherhood. She is soon to be a mother, but she has no intention of abandoning her profession of teaching—not at least if the courts will support her contention that motherhood should not be a ban on teaching.

Mrs. Wagner applied for a leave of absence several weeks ago; it was refused, so much to the consternation of the school board she continued to teach. If she is not reappointed to her position after her child is born she will take the matter into the courts.

MOULDER CLARK UNDER BIG BOND

Youth Whose Motorcycle Killed Pearl Denman is Held.

Moulder Clark, aged 21, was put under bond of $1,000 in the city court Friday morning on a charge of failure to stop after causing injury with a motor vehicle, his arrest being based on the death at St. Joseph hospital at 11 o'clock Thursday night of Pearl Denman, aged 35, who was struck and fatally injured by Clark's motorcycle on the Portage avenue road, near Lindenwood cemetery, Wednesday evening. It is quite probable that no charge of manslaughter will be preferred and under the confusing terms of the statute invoked in this case it is not certain that even a conviction for failure to stop can be secured. Judge Edward O'Rourke, of the firm of O'Rourke & Luecke, appeared for Clark, who gave bond for his appearance October 27 and was released.

James and Edward Denman, brothers of the victim of the accident, came here from Kokomo, Thursday, and were with the unfortunate man when he died. From the first it was considered that Denman had practically no chance, though everything was done for him. The body was prepared for burial by Schone & Ankenbruck and was taken to Kokomo Friday. Denman leaves a wife and child, who reside in Kokomo.

Early Thursday evening, when it was evident that Denman's death was a matter of but few hours, Chief of Police Lenz decided that young Clark should be taken into custody and Motorcycle Officer Dan Kintz brought him in from the Mayflower mills, where he is employed. He was put under $500 bond, which he furnished.

Samuel Singelstrom, employed at Lindenwood cemetery, told the police he was sitting on the gasoline tank of the motorcycle in front of Clark and that the driver could not see ahead of him. He says he saw Denman and his companion as he approached and yelled at them to get out of the way and thinks the driver didn't see either of the men before he struck and injured Denman.

STATE TREASURER QUILTS.

Political Row in Idaho Leads to Resignation.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 23.—O. V. Allen, state treasurer, resigned voluntarily yesterday. Governor John M. Haines telegraphed all banks in the state not to honor state treasury checks until further order. Mr. Allen's resignation has not been acted on.

In a statement Governor Haines said that the treasurer's resignation was the outcome of political attacks on him concerning matters not connected with his office. Mr. Allen resigned to give the governor a free hand, the statement said. According to Governor Haines, the surety companies were let taxpayers' rights to audit the treasurer's books because of the political agitation referred to.

Governor Haines said that he would not accept Mr. Allen's resignation before the audit had been completed and that the notice to the banks not to honor state checks was merely a precautionary measure.

RID STOMACH OF CASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

MOUTH ORGAN NOW UNDER BAN.
Spreads Disease Germs, Declares Omaha Physicians.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 22.—Dr. W. H. Mick has discovered a new reason for abolishing the mouth organ. "It's a disease spreader," declares the physician and it's the cause of more than one epidemic of grip and diphtheria.

The indiscriminate using of musical toys—mouth organs, horns and flutes—cause the spread of minor diseases and often start disease epidemics, according to Dr. Mick, who cautioned a meeting of Omaha mothers to keep such toys from their children.

"Give a mouth organ or a flute to one child in a block," said Dr. Mick, "and within half an hour every child in the block has had that toy in his mouth. Some of these children may be suffering from disease and the flute or organ may carry it to each of his companions, thus causing an epidemic."

GIVES LIFE FOR HER WORK.

Heroic Baltimore Policewoman Is Killed on Duty.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 23.—Killed in the performance of her duty. This phrase will go down in police records after the name of Mrs. Elizabeth Faber, the first policewoman in America to suffer heroic death while attempting to make an arrest in accordance with orders.

Mrs. Faber, known as the cleverest detective in the country, was detailed to capture a negro purse-snatcher who has been terrorizing women shoppers. She cleverly deceived him late in the evening to where Policeman George Popp was lying in wait. The negro seized Mrs. Faber's satchel and she, in turn, seized him. The man fired twice, mortally wounding Mrs. Faber and dropping Patrolman Popp, who was approaching on the run. The murderer fled, but later was captured.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—The greatest labor parade ever held on this side of the Atlantic is planned for the annual meeting of the American Federation of Labor, which is to be held in this city in November.

which labor men are trying to accomplish by the opening of the convention. They are now visiting every section of the nation rushing the organization of new trades in an effort to accomplish their ideal of a "unionized United States by November."

COPPER PROVES A GALLANT.

Perhaps Girl Is One of Those Barefoot Dancers.

Hoboken, N. J., Oct. 19.—Miss Lillian Tobin, 20 years old, was startled to awake one recent morning in the grasp of a stalwart policeman who was stumbling along over the tracks in the Lackawanna railroad freight yards. First, Miss Tobin realized that she had walked in her sleep, then she realized she was still clad only in night attire. Miss Tobin screamed to the policeman to put her down, a thing he was glad to do, and then the officer, Patrolman Desmond, hastily divested himself of his coat and gave it to the somnambulist. She gladly accepted it, and the fact that it was not yet 6 o'clock enabled the young woman to hurry home almost unseen.

RUSH MORE MEN TO FRONT

WAR CRAFT FAIL TO HALT GERMAN TROOPS

London, Oct. 23.—(1:30 p. m.)—The only rock-bottomed fact which Englishmen are able to point to today as a basis for their belief that the climax has about been reached in the sea, land and air battle across the channel, is that armies, however numerous, cannot indefinitely face the decimation of their ranks which has marked this the latest phase of the great campaign.

For nearly a week now this tripartite combat has raged with unabated fury between forces up to the present time so equal in strength that the fronts have swayed back and forth without either being able to register a decisive victory. That the slanting in these fierce efforts and counter efforts to break through the opposing lines transcends anything heretofore seen in this campaign is admitted on both sides.

Nevertheless neither the terrible effect of the long range British naval guns or the land forces offering no tactical defensive positions, although vouching for both officially and unofficially, nor the onslaughts of the allied forces on land, has yet succeeded in stemming the "hacking through" tactics of the Germans.

English news dispatches make sweeping claims of annihilating successes. German advices assert continued progress and Russian telegrams report great victories, but well-defined evidence to support these varied contentions is lacking and the facts appear to be that in neither the eastern nor the western arena of the war has the tide returned decisively. The great haul of merchant ships by the German cruiser Karlsruhe, now fully confirmed from Las Palmas, has been a rude shock to those who have contended that the Atlantic ocean was held safely by the British navy, but the specialists have lost no time in pointing out that the fleet cannot at the same moment convey hundreds of transports and safeguard every merchant ship. The sinking of merchant vessels without loss of life, it is being remarked, involves no military injury, while the capture of a group of transports would be a disaster. Chambers of commerce, however, are agitating for a sweeping operation sufficient to get both the German cruiser, Emden, in Indian waters, and the equally successful Karlsruhe.

CONTINUE VIOLENT ATTACKS.
Germans Fighting Desperately, Says Paris Announcement.

Paris, Oct. 23.—(2:55 p. m.)—The official announcement given out at the war office this afternoon says: "On our left wing the very considerable German forces whose presence was reported yesterday have continued very violent attacks in the entire region between the sea and the canal of La Bassée."

"Generally speaking the situation of the allied forces has been maintained. If the allies have had to yield at certain points, they have advanced at others. The enemy also evinced very great activity in the region of Arras and on the river Somme. To the north and to the south of this stream we have progressed, particularly in the region of Rosieres."

"In Santerre, in the region of Verdun, and in the region of Pont-a-Mousson we have had some partial successes. On the rest of the front there is nothing to report."

"To sum up: The enemy appears to be undertaking, along the major part of the front and particularly between the North sea and the Oise, a new effort."

COLTON ATTACKS STEEL'S DEFENSE

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—The federal government fired its second gun in its attacks on the United States steel corporation today when Henry E. Colton, special assistant to the attorney general, began his argument to have the United States court dissolve the concern on the ground that it is violating the anti-trust law. Jacob M. Dickinson, who opened for the government several days ago, will close the case next week after John G. Johnson, Philadelphia, makes his argument for the steel corporation.

Mr. Colton said he was surprised to find that the defense was trying to prove that the late J. P. Morgan was not responsible for the organization of the corporation. He did not agree with counsel for the defense that the creation of the gigantic corporation was the natural outcome of business conditions, but insisted that it was the direct result of the scheming of five great groups of industrial and financial interests as represented by Morgan, Carnegie, Rockefeller, Gates and the Moores. He reiterated the government charge that the United States steel corporation, purely a holding company, not only threatens to restrain trade but actually is restraining it.

MRS. CARMAN'S STORY UPHELD

Relatives Support Denial of Guilt Made by Accused Woman.

LITTLE DAUGHTER'S STORY IS DRAMATIC Doctor's Wife Undergoes Bitter Ordeal of Cross-Examination.

Minneapolis, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, passed through the bitter ordeal of cross-examination today. Her story denying all participation in the crime was continued. When she concluded members of her household followed her to the stand and swore that what she had testified to was true.

Mrs. Sarah Conklin, Mrs. Ida Powell, Elizabeth Carman—mother, sister and daughter—none by one affirmed her story that she was in bed when the shot was fired; that she donned kimono and slippers, went downstairs into the waiting room, leaned for a minute or two against the mantelpiece and then returned to her room.

Ten-year-old Elizabeth testified that she, too, went down the stairs behind her mother, stayed there but a moment, returned and in a minute or two went to her mother's room.

"My mother was there."

Against the testimony of the Carman household the state has the evidence of Celia Coleman, negro maid of all work in Mrs. Carman's home, and Frank Farrell, former railroad engineer. Celia has testified that Mrs. Carman went out of the kitchen a short time before the shot was fired, appeared a few seconds after it was fired, produced a revolver from the folds of her kimono and said: "I shot him." Farrell has testified that he saw a woman, dressed as Mrs. Carman was dressed, flee from the window into the house after the shooting.

Mrs. Carman broke down after it was all over and cried. The reaction came when her aged mother was on the stand.

Dr. Carman on Stand.

Dr. Edwin Carman, husband of the defendant, was called after the noon recess. He corroborated the testimony of other members of his household as to who was in the house the night of the murder. He said there were several persons, among them Mrs. Bailey, whom he did not know at that time, sitting in the waiting room.

"After I had talked to Mrs. Bailey," the witness continued, "she prepared to go home. Then the glass in the window was broken and a revolver fired through it. I had my hand on the doorknob. I dropped behind the operating table. Then there was a shot. Mrs. Bailey said, 'I'm shot.' I told her she was all right, then I saw blood. I grabbed her and pulled her back of the chair out of range of more bullets. Then she died."

Wife Not in Office.

Dr. Carman said Celia was in his office once that night, but that Mrs. Carman was not. Dr. Carman said he looked at the window as he grabbed Mrs. Bailey but saw nothing. He was sure the door between the pantry and the office was locked.

On cross-examination District Attorney Smith asked if it were true that he had more women patients than men.

KARLSRUHE HAS SUNK 13 ENGLISH STEAMERS

London, Oct. 23.—A dispatch from Tenerife, Canary Islands, to the Daily Mail, under date of Thursday, reports that the German cruiser Karlsruhe has sunk thirteen British merchantmen in the Atlantic.

The news of the Karlsruhe's exploit, according to the Daily Mail's Tenerife correspondent, was brought to that port by the German steamer Crefeld, which arrived there with the crews of the British steamers Strathroy, Maple Branch, Highland Hope, Indrani, Rio Ignessu, Fern, Niceto, Maria De Lavinia, Cornish City, Frith, Condor and Lynrowan, all of which were sunk by the Karlsruhe.

N COLLISION WITH CRUISER

French Warship is Badly Damaged by Spanish Steamer.

New York, Oct. 23.—Officers of the Spanish steamer Telefora, which arrived here today from Buenos Aires, reported that the steamer was in collision with the French cruiser Descaertes in the harbor of Castries, St. Lucia, on October 5. The cruiser was badly injured, according to the Telefora's officers and had to be taken to Martinique for repairs.

The collision occurred as the Telefora was entering the harbor, her officers said. They did not see the Descaertes till the cruiser was a short distance ahead. Immediately the steamer's engines were reversed and she let drop her anchor. Her momentum, however, was so great and she crashed full into the warship. A boat was lowered from the cruiser and two of her officers boarded the steamer. They were very angry; the Telefora's captain feared they would beat him. After a long and bitter wrangle the officers went away and the Telefora was made to give a hand to make good the cruiser's repairs before the steamer was permitted to continue on her trip to Boston and New York. Injuries to the steamer were found to be insignificant but officers said, but the cruiser was badly hurt and was leaking. She was taken to Martinique.

The Telefora is of approximately 2,700 tons.

RAILROADS ARE SUSTAINED.

Restrictions on Extra Fare Trains Upheld by Commerce Commission.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Certain restrictions placed upon so-called "extra fare trains" by railroads generally were sustained today by the inter-state commerce commission.

T. C. Kennedy, of Chicago, bought an extra fare ticket at New York for Chicago but found it necessary to discontinue his journey at Syracuse, N. Y., and asked the New York Central for a refund of the remainder of his fare. The railroad offered a refund between Elkhart, Ind., the first passenger stop of that train, and Chicago, which Kennedy refused. The commission sustained the railroad, holding that without such restrictions fast extra fare trains would become local.

Demands That Enslaved Release the Seized Oil Steamer.

LEADERS EXPECT A B'G MEETING

Governor Ralston, Mr. Taggart and Others in Fort Wayne Tonight.

Democratic leaders expect a big meeting at the Majestic theater on the occasion of the appearance here of Governor Samuel M. Ralston, Hon. W. H. O'Brien, auditor of state, and Thomas Taggart, who are to address an audience on Friday night.

The distinguished party arrived in the city late Thursday night from Auburn and remained here until Friday morning, when they made a trip in a special car to Decatur, where they were booked to speak on Friday afternoon.

They were expected to return here in time for a lunch at the Anthony hotel at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a reception half an hour later, after which they will proceed to the theater in automobiles for the speaking.

Governor Ralston's speaking tour has seriously affected his voice and he was very hoarse on Friday morning, but was expected to be in shape for his address in

WILSON MAY ADJOURN IT

Likely to Use His Prerogative to Put End to Congress.

WAR TAX BILL IS NOW LAW OF LAND

Southern Statesmen Block Thursday Plans for Adjournment.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Probabilities that President Wilson would exercise his constitutional prerogative to adjourn congress, inasmuch as congress itself is unable to agree on ending the session, were considered stronger today by administration leaders, after the president had conferred with Speaker Clark and Senators Kern and Overman.

Speaker Clark said he was sure both houses now sitting without a quorum would be unable to agree on adjournment and he believed the country would endorse such action by the president. The president's power for such a precedent breaking action is found in section three of article two of the constitution, which provides that "in case of disagreement between the (both houses of congress) with respect to the time of adjournment, he (president) may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper."

In the senate there was possibility that the filibuster of senators from the cotton states might be abandoned, but in the house the champions of cotton relief were reported ready to block adjournment resolutions on a point of no quorum.

After Senator Clark's speech today the senate adjourned to noon tomorrow, and hopes of an end today went glimmering.

Block Adjournment Plan.

The plan to adjourn at 6 o'clock last night, immediately following the adoption of the conference report on the war revenue bill, was frustrated by the filibuster which prevented action in the senate on a joint resolution calling for adjournment at that time and to which the house had agreed.

As the leaders had no definite plans the date on which the session would come to an end was still problematical early today. Despite the fact that they had hoped that the final disposition of the war tax measure would be the concluding act of the session, it appeared that the work of congress was still un-

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

GERMANS PUSH FRESH TROOPS FORWARD.

London, Oct. 23.—(3:20 p. m.)—A dispatch from Paris to Renner's Telegraph company, says that, according to trustworthy accounts received at the French capital this morning, fresh troops brought up by the Germans have enabled them to deliver attacks with increased vigor on the French right wing where the battle has been of a ding-dong character with alternate gains and losses.

PREPARE TO LAND TROOPS IN ENGLAND.

Copenhagen, Oct. 23.—Two ship yards at Kiel, the German and the Howard, are building thirty armored lighters capable of carrying 500 men each and traveling at the rate of nine miles an hour to proceed to the river Scheldt should events permit the landing of German troops on the coast of England. Furthermore it is asserted that three of these lighters are completed and already on their way to the Scheldt.

SWEDISH STEAMER BLOWN UP BY MINE.

London, Oct. 23.—(4:51 p. m.)—The Swedish steamer Alice homeward bound from London, has been blown up by a mine in the North sea. She sank in three minutes. All the members of her crew were saved.

BRANDELS AFTER ROADS' FIGURES

Washington, Oct. 23.—Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the interstate commerce commission attacked the figures of railroad statisticians upon which the eastern railroads are asking increases in freight rates because of the European war, when the hearing on the rate case was resumed today, and demanded an opportunity to cross examine the men who prepared them. "This estimate," said Mr. Brandeis, "appears absolutely out of line with what might have been expected to be the fact." He demanded that figures upon which the estimates were founded be produced "that some test as to their accuracy" might be applied. The railroad men have been presenting tables to show decreases in earnings and injury to credit by the financial exigency arising from the European conflict.

EXPENSIVE FOR SULLIVAN.
Illinois Candidate Filed Report on More Expenditures.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Additional expenditure of $4,205.04 in the Illinois senatorial primary was reported today by Roger Sullivan, the democratic candidate. The principal item was of $3,470 to G. E. Brennan "for money expended by him for organization among individuals and associations." Sullivan reported previously that he had spent $8,163 in the contest. The report showed no contributions received.

GRIS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin, faded, bring back its color and lustre.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

BATTLE NOW RAGING FROM SEA, AIR, LAND

London, Oct. 23.—(10:30 a. m.)—Vessels from the French navy, having crept around the coast, were today standing by the British monitors which are hurling shells landward between Ostend and Nieuport on the Belgian coast in continuation of the fierce battle between the Germans and allies for the possession of North sea and channel ports. For the first time since the war began aircraft and warships are aiding simultaneously in the movements of land forces; thus the struggle is being waged in the air, on the sea and on the land at the same time.

The Germans are hurrying forward fresh troops and heavy guns, the latter to make reply to the damaging fire from the ships, and although they have been pushed back at certain points they appear to be holding their line between the sea and La Bassee without, however, making noteworthy progress.

The fight, so far as Belgium is concerned, has now resolved itself into a terrific artillery duel in which it is claimed the allies by their long range guns have had the advantage. The muddy roads and the network of canals doubtless have hindered the invaders in getting their guns of equal or greater range into position. When they do accomplish this situation will be even more acute. It is said that up to the present time the British naval losses have been negligible, although both sides must have suffered heavily on land. The Germans claim to have put a British torpedo boat out of action.

King at Scene of Fighting.
Albert, king of the Belgians, who since his retirement from Ostend has been reported at various points in northern France, appears to be actually at the scene of fighting. This information is on the authority of the British admiralty. Dispatches say that the queen also is with the Belgian army, but this

British nerves with the result that it was decided to take no chances.

Few Englishmen will admit that they really expect a visit from Zeppelins, but the insurance companies are doing a large business not only on property but against personal injury from bombs. Even Westminster Abbey has been insured.

The reported German defeat before Warsaw still dominates the news from the eastern field and again they recall what is becoming a time worn report that the Russians have taken Przemysl. A dispatch to the Central News from Petrograd says this is persistently reported but not confirmed.

In the reported German rout at Warsaw the British press professes to see the turning point along the Vistula. While the Germans apparently are holding their positions along this river between Plock and Sandomir it is claimed that the time is nearing for Russia to carry the war into Germany.

BORAH HEARD BY A BIG AUDIENCE

Theater Filled by People Who Listened to the Senator.

Long before Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, opened his address in the majestic theater Thursday night every seat except those reserved for the vice presidents had been filled and it was necessary to hold an overflow meeting at the court house assembly room for those who failed to get inside the theater building.

Following his arrival in the city late in the afternoon the senator was tendered a reception at the Anthony hotel and at the meeting he was introduced by B. Paul Mossman, the president of the evening. An auto parade, with a number of ladies riding in the machines, men on horse back and the marching clubs of the republican party, covered the downtown streets prior to the gathering at the theater and this delayed the opening of the address for a short time.

Senator Borah's Address.
Opening with the statement that the problems of the present are the most important since the civil war, the senator said in part:

"The democratic party is not in power because the majority of the people wanted a democratic administration, but the democratic party is in power because of the division in the republican party, and Wilson is a minority president."

"I hope there are democrats here, because I did not come here to talk to the rightwingers, but call the sinners to repent. If it were not for the division in the republican party the democrats would have no hope this year."

"The republican convention in 1912, which will probably be held in Chicago, will be made up of the rank and file of republicans. They will draft the platform and they will nominate the candidate for president. And that candidate for president will be elected. The

Lisbon, Oct. 22.—(Via Paris 5:20 p. m.)—The monarchists of Portugal made attempts the nights of October 20 and October 21 to effect uprisings. There were outbreaks at various places, especially in the northern part of Portugal, which for a time was cut off from telegraphic communication with Lisbon. A sharp conflict took place at Mafra between 100 civilians and republican troops.

The civilians were led by a lieutenant, who seized the arsenal. The troops were victorious. An insurgent band, numbering 200 men, was pursued to the mountains.

atio C. Creith, of H. C. Creith & Co., Columbus, Ohio, contractors, who filed a claim of $10,711.84 for material and labor. The petition alleges that indebtedness of the defendant will exceed $400,000.

The Best Index

of what the coffee trade think of the harmfulness of the coffee-drug, caffeine, is shown in their efforts to get rid of it—to get a coffee that doesn't contain caffeine!

When they do succeed in getting rid of some of the caffeine drug-content, the result is a weak, "clover-tea" decoction that few appreciate.

But after all their efforts to rid coffee of part of its caffeine, how about the other coffee-drug, "tannin"—about 2-5 grains to every cup of coffee?

Tannin is the drug used to tan hides with. Do you know what it does to your stomach? Probably not. Here is what good authorities say about it:—

"Tannic acid in coffee interferes with digestion."

"The caffeine and theine in coffee and tea are cerebral stimulants, and the tannic acid is an astringent, affecting especially the muscular fibers of the intestinal walls."

"Tannic acid is universally condemned by all authorities as a hindrance to digestion and health."

Why keep on running the risk of serious interference with health. Why not quit a table beverage that bears in its train a lot of trouble like nervousness, headache, heart, stomach, bowel disturbance, insomnia, etc.

Thousands, suffering from these ills, find it easy to quit coffee when they have at hand the delicious, nourishing beverage—

MARSHALL GETS INTO CAMPAIGN

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 23.—Before an audience of 1,600 persons, the largest political gathering held here in years, Vice President Marshall last night discussed the political issues. Mr. Marshall praised Senator Shively, commended democratic redemption of promises as to tariff and income tax and urged voters to uphold the democratic program.

Earlier in the day, in an address at Greenacres, Mr. Marshall gave an eulogy of President Wilson, of the things he has accomplished and of his plans for the future. An era of unprecedented prosperity was predicted, despite the war, and the vice president asserted that if the voters of the country fail to return men to congress who will back Mr. Wilson, all of his plans for the good of the country will be thwarted.

Mr. Marshall declared the democratic party had recognized the right of all human beings to liberty and the pursuit of happiness by its refusal to "run over" the members of the minority in congress and by its earnest effort to effect legislation that the people desired.

CHILD ESCAPES FIEND.

Little Van Wert Girl Breaks From Man Who Held Her.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 23.--Miss Davenport, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Davenport, residing at 123 South Wall street, undoubtedly escaped from a fiend about 10 o'clock the other night when she succeeded in jerking away from an unknown man who had forced her to accompany him as far as the Pennsylvania railroad tracks on North Shannon street. The little girl and her brother had been down town, and on their way home Allen dropped behind, and as she reached the corner of Shannon and Main streets the man walked up, seized her by the wrist and walked down North Shannon street, his victim so frightened that she was unable to scream or call for help. When they reached the railroad the little girl made a desperate and successful effort to break away, and ran for home, meeting her mother and brother, who had just started in search of her. She quickly told her story, and the local police were notified but were unable to secure any trace of the fiend.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.

The moment you apply hold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years hold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet, in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of hold-sulphur, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with torturous itching.--Adx.

People Will Rule,
Says Mme. Nazimova

New York, Oct. 23.--Mme. Nazimova, Russian actress, is busy rehearsing a new play, but not so busy that she can not give her views on the European war and its outcome.

"This war had to come," says the emotional Russian. "We could no longer tolerate social and political conditions in Europe. When the nations are through fighting we shall have new forms of government, more liberty of thought. The people will have a voice in the new governments, and thus will the war be justified."

USING GOLD BULLETS.

Yaqui Indians Putting Fancy Frills on Fighting.

La Colorado, Mex., Oct. 23.--Gold bullets are being used by the Yaquis, of Sonora, with demoralizing effect upon the Mexican troops opposing them. It is said the Mexicans expose themselves recklessly to the Indians' fire, expecting that the bullets which bring them down will be worth enough to pay the surgeon's bill and still leave a nice little profit.

The Yaquis are making their bullets out of $50.00 worth of gold precipitate which they captured from an American pack train some time ago. In their present crisis the Indians find bullets much more valuable to them than gold.

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair
Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you have darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.--Adx.

WAS EARLY SETTLER IN WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 23.--Word has been received in Warsaw announcing the death of Mrs. Nancy Julian, a former early settler of Warsaw, who passed away on the 20th inst., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Hartley, at Greenport, Long Island, at the age of 90 years. Mrs. Julian was well known among the early settlers of Warsaw, and always took an active part in church affairs before advancing years precluded it. She was a devout Christian woman and a member of the Methodist church from girlhood.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Pichon, Peru, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it: "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.--Adx.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 20:14-22.

Then upon Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, the son of the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, came the Spirit of the Lord in the midst of the congregation:

And he said, Harken ye, all Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, thus saith the Lord unto you, Be not afraid nor dismayed by reason of this great multitude, for the battle is not yours, but God's.

Tomorrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the cliff, and ye shall find them at the end of the brook, before the wilderness of the stones.

Ye shall not need to fight in this battle: set yourselves, stand ye still, and the salvation of the Lord with you, O Judah and Jerusalem: fear not, be dismayed; tomorrow go out against them: for the Lord will be with you.

And Jahaziel bowed his head with his face to the ground: and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites, and of the children of the Korhites, stood up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice on the stringed instruments.

And they rose early in the morning, and went forth into the wilderness before the army: and as they went forth, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear ye, O Judah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem; Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper.

And when he had consulted with the people, he appointed singers unto the army, and that should praise the beauty of holiness, as they went out before the army, and to say, Praise the Lord; for his mercy endureth for ever.

And when they began to sing and to praise, the Lord set ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Judah; and they were smitten.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER, MAY 1, 1907, UNDER POSTOFFICE NO. 100, AT FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

FRIDAY, OCT. 23, 1914.

In the Thick of the Fight.

Unless all signs fail, all indications go amiss and the judgment of keen political observers be proven lamentably at fault, the campaign now being waged in Indiana will terminate in a splendid victory for democracy at the election which is now rapidly nearing. We are now in the thick of the fight. Each party is bending every effort to secure a favorable verdict, and there is manifestly a deep, though quiet, interest taken in the struggle by the rank and file of voters.

Despite the fuss and the furore and the frenzied claims of the opposition, the democratic leaders are viewing the outlook with absolute confidence. They reason logically that the people have an abiding and unshaken faith in the president, and that they are anxious to uphold his hands by a democratic congress in order that he may complete the work on which a notable beginning has already been made. They point the fact that in state matters new problems have been met, new governmental endeavors undertaken in response to expressed popular desire and the state's affairs have been competently managed under Governor Ralston's administration. They have full confidence that the people will not fail to accord the full measure of credit where it is due, and that democracy may submit its record without fear. The outstanding fact in these later days of the campaign in Indiana is the augury for democratic success in November.

The Sentinel trusts that the recent movement launched by the board of public works to eliminate the smoke nuisance in Fort Wayne will not be allowed to lapse with the serving of notice on some half a dozen of the large number of institutions which have been offending in the matter. The coming of winter will vastly increase the smoke nuisance, and this is the time of year when most beneficial results can be obtained by action. Whether the remedy lie in insistence on the use of proper varieties of coal, in more competent firing, or in the installation of adequate smoke-consuming devices is quite immaterial so long as results are attained. In the down-town district the situation is particularly unsightly, harmful and wasteful. Let us have some smoke-prevention action that prevents.

Without purpose to pose as an advisor in expert finance, The Sentinel is constrained to recommend as an investment the Allen county stone road bonds which are now in the hands of the county treasurer for sale to those who desire them. They are in denominations ranging from $240 to $1,000, pay 4½ per cent. interest, are non-taxable and there is no premium on them. The bonds are unquestionably safe, for the entire township, for which they are issued is security for the payment. More than this, their purchase will serve a double purpose. It will not only provide a desirable investment, but will mean a stimulation of business by permitting the giving of employment on construction of the roads, which cannot, under the law, be begun until the bonds have been sold and the cash is on hand to pay for the work.

WHY INDIANA Needs a New CONSTITUTION

FACT NO. 6.

The great recognized need in government in the United States today is machinery which will take political control from the professional politicians and the special interests and place it in the people. This is being done successfully in seventeen states and more than three hundred cities through means of the initiative and referendum. These are to be voted on in seven other states at the November election.

With the aid of these instruments of popular government, the people have been retiring the bosses and taking control of the government into their own hands. It is the only practical means ever devised to enable the people to exercise direct control of the law-making and provide effective check upon their law-makers. Actual experience with the initiative and referendum clinches the following facts:

That they have notably diminished log-rolling in legislative bodies, vastly restricted the power of the bosses and the political rings to control legislation and made the people's representatives more responsive to public opinion.

That the people take an active interest in the political rings to control legislation measures, the average of ten states at the 1912 elections being 75 per cent. of the vote on candidates.

That they show keen discrimination in their voting, evidenced by the fact that in the same ten states only fifty-three of a total of the ninety-four measures submitted were adopted.

That they are conservative in their actions, as shown by the character of the measures adopted and rejected.

Application of the principle of initiative and referendum in Indiana can only come through a new constitution.

CONFIDENCE NEEDED.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

It is a true word which Governor Hamlin, of the federal reserve board, spoke in his address before the American Bankers' association. The country is not suffering from a lack of currency, but from a lack of credit.

The nation had in circulation on July 1, 1913, of gold, silver, certificates and the older forms of notes, $3,343,738,149, while there was in the treasury $356,551,567. These items may have slightly decreased, but the circulation has been largely enhanced by the issue of $340,000,000 of Federal Reserve currency. There is $1,200,000,000 that can be issued, but is not taken. The south, whose need is most pressing, is entitled to $100,000,000 of this currency, but so far it has taken but $50,000,000. What the south needs, as well as the north, east and west, is not money, but the credit that will enable it to get money at a low price.

Moreover, the situation justifies this confidence. The drag upon the recovery of business at present is almost entirely the lack of confidence in the future. Yet it is plain that there is every ground for confidence in the future. The country is in sound condition internally. Trade with neutral nations offers an immense field for expansion. Even the combatants will, while fighting, make a large demand on this country for food and supplies, and when they make peace will call for immense amounts of material to repair the damages of war.

These things will be accompanied by drawbacks, no doubt, but it remains true that the future of this country is decidedly bright, if the confidence of trade and finance is restored. Americans should understand that their future will be prosperous in proportion as they make the most of their opportunities.

SEVERE GERMAN DEFEAT RUMORED

London, Oct. 23.—(3:55 a. m.)—"The German general staff has left Ghent and there are strong rumors of a severe German defeat," says the Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail. "Messages from different points of the north-west frontier agree that the German coast army is being rolled up like a ribbon."

"The German cavalry has been unable to maneuver in the tangled dyke country and the German big guns are stuck in bogs. By a magnificent attack, it is stated, the Franco-British forces have cut the German line south of Ostend."

The correspondent of the Times in northern France states there is no foundation for the report that Bruges has been evacuated by the Germans.

PANKHURST AIDE BLOCKS TRAFFIC

New York, Oct. 23.—The militant methods of Miss Christabel Pankhurst have brought one of her aides into conflict with the New York police. Miss Jeanne Slater, of London, who has had experience with the London police, started out yesterday afternoon to chalk the sidewalks of Broadway with notices of the meeting at Carnegie hall tomorrow afternoon, at which Miss Pankhurst is to speak. "Crowds gathered thinking Miss Pankhurst herself was at work. Traffic was so much disturbed that police served the young militant with a summons to appear in court today."

Miss Slater protested that she did not know she was breaking any rules. The crowd took her side, but they could not dissuade the officer. Miss Pankhurst herself will appear in court to help her young aide.

GRABILL NEWS

Grabill, Ind., Oct. 23.—The Washburn railroad will change the schedule of its local passenger trains Sunday. Four of the trains will be removed from the Montpelier division, the fast train making stops to accommodate passengers. Grist and Daub will unload a car load of winter apples sometime next week.

The C. C. Schlatter orchestra, of Fort Wayne, will give a concert in the rink next Tuesday evening.

Albert Lantz, of Berne, Ind., made a business visit here between trains recently.

Mrs. J. J. Schlatter has been able to attend church services for some time, but last Sunday evening she became suddenly ill and was unable to be taken to her home. She was taken to the home of D. N. Klopferstein.

L. H. Hursh is repairing the lighting and heating systems in his residence. The stoning of State street will be completed this week.

ENTERTAIN THEIR FRIENDS.

Members of North American Club gave a Spread in Honor of H. E. Sprague.

In honor of their ex-honorary, Harry E. Sprague, now located in Sioux City, who was here on a visit, the members of the North American club gave a big spread Thursday evening in their rooms in the North American building. Each member of the club invited a few friends to take part in the evening's program.

Charles Huff, president of the organization, who made all arrangements for the jolly evening, presided. Members of the club are F. L. Barnett, John Davies, L. J. Fleming, W. F. Kippel, W. Watson and Charles Stringer. Others who were present were Frank Bessie, Harry McKown, George Dunham, W. G. Vesey, Frank Goetz, Harry E. Sprague, Chas. A. Miller, E. F. Friesche, C. L. Young, H. Ford, G. B. Horn, A. Thomas, L. H. Shields, E. E. Altavogt, E. Rehling, C. Babb, R. J. Coats, R. H. Chadwick, J. Olson, C. F. Hoffman, E. J. Harshman, E. B. Hoff and L. D. Arnold.

The evening was spent in singing and listening to interesting talks by several of those present. The music furnished by M. J. Ouse, Charles Miller and F. Getz was well received and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. Sprague gave a short address on the city where he is now located and promised to give more the next time he returned.

MY CATARRH BALM OPENS UP NOSE AND HEAD—COLDS GO

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head, catarrhal sore throat will be gone. Kind such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing, but truly needless. Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

FRENCH PARLIAMENT WILL MEET IN PARIS

Paris, Oct. 23.—The struggle on the lengthened line extending into Belgium now called the battle of Flanders, give rise to an engagement along the coast as near as possible to the birth place of Jules Verne, in which aircraft and submarines participated, realizing for the first time, in the same encounter, the dreams of the great Frenchman.

The British monitors off shore did great execution on the German trenches, among those reported killed being Gen. von Tripp and his staff. While the allies' airmen cleverly directed the aim of the marine guns the German submarines lying in wait attacked the monitors, but without result because the latter were so far in shore. Here again the critics remark that the attempts of the Germans to turn the allies' left and reach the French coast has been defeated and the Germans again have been forced to resort to frontal attacks.

The gains made by the allies on the road to Metz, it is thought must draw the attention of the Germans seriously to a quarter where they are menaced, not only from the direction of Verdun but by the renewed successes of the French in the eastern slope of the Vosges.

The news from Bordeaux today indicates that parliament is not to be called to meet there but in Paris. The employees of both the chamber and the senate have been notified that they may return to Paris at the end of this month, which is taken as a sign of confidence in official circles and is making a good impression.

The French continue their preparations with prospective recruits to fill the gaps in the army. Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the French Olympic games, it has been announced, has been charged by the government to care for the physical training of young men from fifteen to nineteen with a view to their entry into the service.

The military authorities are more and more watchful of stragglers. Every man arriving at the Paris terminals, of age to bear arms, is required to show papers on arrival and if they are not in order arrests are made. Some of the soldiers, not in the habit of being fêted as have been the men returning from the front, succumbed to temptation and over-stayed their permissions. These stragglers included Turcos and Zouaves. Now even soldiers in uniform are required to produce a permit or failing in this they are ordered to fall in by the patrols.

BULLETIN.

London, Oct. 23.—(4:15 a. m.)—A dispatch from Peking to the Exchange Telegraph company, reports that the allies' warships have captured a German destroyer, which escaped from Kiao Chow Bay.

BULLETIN.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(By Wireless)—According to information given out in Berlin today the number of Belgians returning to Antwerp is increasing as a result of the good treatment accorded them by the German authorities.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS HEAVY FINE

Arthur Geib, Noble County Farmer, Did Things on Road With Auto.

Shamefaced, penitent, presenting distinctly the air of the morning after, and a prisoner in the box at police court after a night spent in jail, Arthur E.
Geib, a prosperous farmer of Noble
County, residing two miles east of Rome
City, publicly took the pledge hereafter to abstain from the use of all intoxicating liquors as a beverage, while the court took $50 of his money in a fine of $50 and costs. Geib, 40 years of age, is married with his family and a Ford, Thursday and while the missus took the youngsters and went shopping for socks and shoes and hampers and such like vanities, Arthur roared forth over the town and put in his time industriously and profitably trying to brew a tractable compound of beer and booze. When the time for starting home had fully come, Arthur had a sense of royal excellences and didn't give a darn whether the little old Ford had the track or not. The very reasonable amount of 12 legs down the hill not far beyond the Six Run bridge on the Lima road, just outside the city, Geib lost control of his car and dashed into the bigger crowd of Mrs. E. E. E.
Earl, husband, and their baby. The truck was thrown from the roadway and over-landed and the horse broke loose and ran away, but no one in the town was hurt.
Geib's car leaped from the road, crushed and threw out its occupants, righted itself and stopped. Mrs. Geib received some painful bruises, but neither Geib nor the four children received any harm. Sheriff Glouch and Deputy Conley went out and arrested Geib, who had a roaring fit and was ugly and full of fight, charging him with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.
He was locked up over night and Sheriff Glouch says that Mrs. Geib and the children were comfortably situated for during the night. In the city court (Geib frankly admitted that he was drunk, said he was sorry that he would make good all damage and never would drink any more. Geib owns a farm of 100 acres in Noble County, and is well-to-do. He settled with Earlman for damage to the society, saying that he is understood, $50. Earlman, who is a clerk in the postoffice in Port Wayne, was driving in his home when the accident occurred.

Mrs. G. and Mrs. Eastman each held in her house at the time of the collision a tragic infant. Both babies were hurled through the air and either was injured.
Mrs. Geib lay unconscious on the ground when the first help arrived, while her drunken husband was tinkering with a fire on his necked car, and giving his wife no attention. Geib was locked up Friday after his trial pending arrangements with a Kendallville bank to forward money to pay his fine.

TALKING PEACE PACT.

New York, Oct. 23.—That peace, or at least a compromise, was the object of the meeting here today and tomorrow of the federal league club owners and officers became more and more insistent as the time of the conference drew near. It was known that representatives of organized baseball and the new league have met already, but the secret of peace proposals, if any were made, remain hidden.
Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago club, who went to Cincinnati yesterday, is expected here late today or tomorrow fresh from a conference with

August Herrmann, chairman of the national committee. In the meantime, it is said Gilmore and his associates are talking of an invasion of New York proper.

MRS. CARMAN'S

He denied this. He said he had been practicing for twenty-five years. Dr. Carman denied that he had ever told the grand jury that he had his hand on Mrs. Bailey's shoulder.

SMILES IN TAKING STAND.

Someone Told Her Doctor Was "a Devil With the Girls."

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, on trial as the slayer of Mrs. Louise Bailey, smilingly stepped into the witness stand today for the ordeal of cross examination by the district attorney. She appeared cheerful and refreshed and said she was ready to reply to all questions District Attorney Smith might ask her, no matter what they were.

She faced a crowded court room. Among the 200 or more spectators who occupied every available bit of space were long time friends and neighbors, whose faces were wreathed with hopeful smiles as she began her story. Ranged directly opposite her chair, within the enclosure and less than a dozen steps away, were the mother, the daughter and the husband of the woman whose life the state asserts she took.

Just before the defendant took the chair she crossed over to her mother, Mrs. Conklin, sitting at the counsel table, leaned over and kissed her.

"About a year ago."

What caused her suspicion she could not say. "A woman did not cause it—just rumors."

"Were the rumors about a woman?"

"Was a Devil With the Girls."

"No. Just some one asking him about his girls. Somebody told me he was a devil with the girls."

She could not recall who told her this or where or when.

"Somebody was asking him that question all the time," she said. "They were jesting. I thought at first, but after a while I thought may be there might be some truth in what they said. They would say to me, 'the doctor is some devil.'"

"Did you have an inclination to hear what the doctor had to say to his women patients?"

"In a way, yes. Some of his patients."

"Did you ask him where he was when he was out all night?"

"Yes; and he told me."

"Did you believe him?"

"Yes, sometimes."

"Did your suspicions increase with time?"

All Dispelled Now.

"They increased right up to the time of the murder. They have all been dispelled now."

"How long have you been in that frame of mind?"

"Ever since the terrible tragedy. What I heard, or rather what I didn't hear over the telephone instrument reassured me."

For several minutes Mrs. Carman sought to evade a direct answer to the district attorney's question as to whether she thought that her husband was truthful. Finally she said "No." She explained that she had no real reason to doubt him, however. She was suspicious at first of the women who called frequently at his office; finally she was suspicious of nearly all of his women callers.

"I got tired of hearing things," she said. "And the fact that a woman would come to his office afterwards was enough to make you suspicious. Were you suspicious of your husband or the women?" asked Mr. Smith.

"Both," said Mrs. Carman firmly.

Some Women More Attractive.

Some women, said Mrs. Carman, were more attractive to her husband than she was. She had thought. She did not know if there were more than one, but she wanted to find out. "I had no particular woman in mind," she said. Mr. Smith asked if she thought Mrs. Varance, the middle aged nurse whose face she slapped, were more attractive than she.

Under the rapid volley of the district attorney's pitiless questions Mrs. Carman's color rose and fell. She bit her lips; she clenched her gloved hands. She

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

A Sale of Fancy Ostrich Trimmed, Dress and Evening

At FIVE DOLLARS Each

YOU who closely follow fashions will recognize this as a most unusual event in that it offers at one-half to one-fifth actual value hats embodying every requisite of correct winter millinery.

IT is indeed an advance sale of fashion's latest approved styles. Hats with fancy ostrich novelty trimming today dominate the creations of the most exclusive Fifth Avenue, New York, milliners.

THE SKETCHES at the head of this announcement are made from the hats included in this sale.

ESPECIAL emphasis should be laid upon the character of ostrich trimming.

NOT a single piece of ostrich trimming is worth less than $4.00.

THERE are many pieces worth $7.50—not counting the high grade velvet shape, the gold flowers, bands, ribbons, or labor involved in their production.

THE ostrich is of the very finest quality obtainable and includes the most exclusive solid color and delicately shaded novelties.

SO LARGE and distinctive a collection of Trimmed Hats has not been seen in any retail or wholesale establishment in this city before.

THE PURCHASE included 300 Hats, no two alike and every Hat a notable creation—a distinctive Parisian model.

ALL were made by New York milliners who do only the highest grade Parisian work.

ALTHOUGH within the reach of every woman, they are just the sort of hats women accustomed to pay $10 to $20 are delighted to find.

AS A STYLE event this is the most notable thing our Millinery Shop has ever done—and as a price event it is by far the most sensational any store ever attempted.

In addition to the latter offer, we have received a shipment of over 500 Untrimmed Hats, in velvet and plush, the new blocks and soft crown sailors, 50 different styles to choose from, Saturday appeared about to faint, but her bottle of smelling salts revived her. She was made to describe the entire scene with Mrs. Varance. She said she saw Dr. Carman give the nurse $15 and saw her kiss him afterwards. It was the passing of the money and not the kiss that disturbed her, she said.

"You didn't object to another woman kissing your husband in gratitude?"

"Oh, no," replied Mrs. Carman.

"How long after the passing of the money was the kiss administered?"

"A few minutes. They were sitting down along side each other at the time. Mrs. Carman said she did not rap on the window when the kiss was given, but waited until Mrs. Varance started to leave the office."

"You went pretty fast around the lawn to get to the door before Mrs. Varance didn't you?"

"Yes."

In reply to an inquiry Mrs. Carman indicated that she slapped Mrs. Varance with the back of her hand.

"Didn't Hear a Shot."

"No. I heard some commotion."

"What?" shouted the district attorney.

"Well I don't know whether I heard or not. I heard a noise."

"And your curiosity was aroused?"

"Surely. It was an unusual sound."

She thought it had come from the rear of the house and it took her about a minute to get down stairs, she said. As she reached the head of the stairs she saw two women going down the hall, but she made no effort to find out who they were. After she went down stairs she walked into the waiting room and leaned against a mantel piece for a moment. She did not see any one down stairs and went directly up stairs again, after having stood by the mantel for two minutes, perhaps.

Mrs. Carman's cross examination ended at 11:35 o'clock. She had been on the witness stand then for an hour and thirty-five minutes. Her re-direct examination was then begun.

Tore Out Instruments.

Before she was excused Mrs. Carman described in detail how she tore out the telephone instruments and its wires between her room and the doctor's office and hid the wires, batteries, sound gatherer and the receiver in the garret under the floor.

"Mrs. Carman," said the district attorney, "if your suspicions were dispelled by what you heard over the instrument why did you buy the thing on June 23 when your lease on it had two more months to run?"

To this Mrs. Carman would give no direct answer, although the district attorney framed the question in several different ways.

Mrs. Carman said she learned the identity of the victim late Tuesday night. She said she felt sorry for the family of Mrs. Bailey, but that she had not expressed her sympathy to them because she "didn't feel at liberty to do so."

Daughter Next Witness.

Mrs. Carman's 10-year-old daughter Elizabeth was the next witness. In a childish treble she gave her version of what had happened in the Carman household the night of the murder. After dinner, she said, she had gone out and played on the lawn.

"Mother went upstairs," she continued. "My aunt and my grandmother were on the porch. Later I went into the parlor and started to practice on the piano. My mother told me to stop. Then I went into the diningroom, walked through the hall and sat in a chair in the diningroom. Presently I heard glass break and a shot. I met my aunt on the stairs. I went in my mother's room. My mother was there."

"When I ran back into the hall I saw my mother put on her slippers and kimono and I followed her downstairs. Then I went up again. When she came up in a minute I went into her room with her."

On cross-examination District Attorney Smith asked only one question. "Elizabeth, you are very fond of your mother, aren't you?"

"Yes, sir," she replied.

"That's all," said the prosecutor.

Aged Mother on Stand.

Just as Sarah A. Conklin, Mrs. Carman's mother, 73 years old, took the stand the defendant burst into tears. She buried her face in her handkerchief and her shoulders shook with sobs.

Mrs. Conklin's testimony corroborated that given by Mrs. Carman and Elizabeth.

Similar corroborative testimony was given by Mrs. Carman's sister, Mrs. Ida Powell.

Mrs. Carman on Stand.

Called to the witness stand at 4:42 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Carman, in her own behalf, entered a sweeping denial of the charge against her. Early in the morning of June 30 I went to New York," she testified. "I spent the day shopping. I returned to Freeport with a headache on a train at 6 o'clock."

"As soon as I got home I took off my coat and went to the supper table. I answered the front door once. I admitted a man I do not know. I still had the headache at this time. After supper I went right up to bed. I undressed and put my clothing away. Then I put on my night clothes and went to bed. I was ill. I heard Elizabeth playing the piano. I told her to stop. Soon after I heard a shot and some commotion down stairs. I sat up and put on my kimono. I also put on my slippers. I went down stairs into the pantry room. I could not see in the office. The door was closed. I heard the doctor talk then. I went back up stairs, thinking that everything was all right. I met Elizabeth up stairs. Soon after Mrs. Powell came up and told me that some woman had been shot in the office. Mrs. Conklin also came up.

The district attorney called about 9:20 o'clock that night. I went to bed at 10 o'clock. I had not been off the premises the whole night. The reason I did not go into the office was because Dr. Carman told me never to go into the office after we had the trouble with the nurse. We also had another difficulty about the office on other occasions.

When She Slapped Nurse.

"The last time I ever saw Mrs. Varance, the nurse, was in the office when I slapped her face. Dr. Carman and I had several spots over Mrs. Varance. She came to the office afterward and I did not think it was right. On the night I slapped her face I saw her first in the waiting room. Later I looked in, but she was not there. So I went out in the yard and looked into the doctor's office through the window."

"I saw them talking. Then Dr. Carman peeled $15 from a roll he took from his coat and gave it to the nurse. They talked some more and Mrs. Varance kissed the doctor. Then I rapped on the window and went in. I said to the nurse: 'This is a nice way for a married woman and a married man to act.' Then I said to the doctor: 'So this is where your money goes.' Then I demanded the money and got it."

The Dictograph Incident.

"I told Mrs. Varance never to come to the house again. After it was all over Dr. Carman told me if I ever came into the office again he would leave me and break it all off."

"As to the telephone instrument, I had that installed because of stories I had heard. People would ask him how his girls were and he would stay out all night. I was not crazy jealous, but I wanted to find out if the stories were true. If they were I was determined to live under the same roof with Dr. Carman for my daughter's sake. But I resolved that I would never even speak to him again."

Mrs. Carman described how she bought the instrument and the demonstration that she had of it in the office in New York. She also described the conversation she had with the salesman. The salesman told her many places where the instruments had been installed. Continuing she said:

"He also told me of the difficulties the installers had overcome. The man assured me that one could be installed in my house without anybody knowing it. I told the man I could not have it known that there was any trouble in my house on account of my little girl."

He wanted to sell me the instrument for $100. I told him that was too much so he said he would rent it for three months for $50. I told him if I could arrange to get my husband out of the house I would write him a letter and he could send the man to install it. I took Dr. Carman away while the thing was being put in.

"I saw the man again about three weeks later. I could not hear anything that went on in Dr. Carman's office. I told him that. He told me the instrument might have been placed wrong, but he gave me three dry batteries to make it stronger. I also got back the letter I had written him. I had some receipts for the money I had paid him. I burned those before the homicide."

"I took the instrument out the morning after the murder. I took parts of it before breakfast and parts later. I thought Dr. Carman had enough trouble on his hands."

"I did not know Mrs. Bailey. I had never seen her alive. I saw her dead body at the morgue three days after the murder. You (Mr. Levy) made me go there to make sure whether I knew the woman."

"I have never fired a gun or a pistol in my life," continued Mrs. Carman. "I know nothing about firearms."

"When I first saw you after the murder I knew I was under suspicion. I asked you to assist me if I needed an attorney."

Denies Negro Maid's Story.

"I did not go through the kitchen as Celia Coleman said. I did not say 'I shot him.' I did not come down in a kimono and a nightcap. I did not go in Dr. Carman's office at any time on June 30."

"I did not show Celia a revolver. The only revolver I ever handled was a little one the doctor kept in his bureau drawer. That was a tiny little one. I gave it to the district attorney. Celia Coleman did not speak the truth when she said she tried to keep me from going into the office. I did not tell Celia I would take care of her little boy if anything should happen to her. Neither did I ever give Celia $5 and tell her that was for keeping her mouth shut. I never walked at Celia when you were asking me questions. I did not tell Celia the day after the murder to call Mr. Conklin from the barn as I wanted him to get the revolver out of the house. I did not go to Celia's room the morning after the murder. I did not say 'I hope God will forgive me. Oh, why did I kill that woman?"

Mrs. Carman then took off her gloves and exhibited her bare arms to the jury. "I never had any scars on them," she said. "They were not cut on the night of June 30."

completed as cotton state members had served notice they would continue today their fight for legislative aid for cotton growers.

War Tax Now Law. Meantime the war tax bill, estimated at $60,000,000 of revenue, was the law of the land today, having received the signature of President Wilson. The taxes on beer and wine were in effect today, but the levy on tobacco will not go into effect until Nov. 1. The stamp taxes will date from December 1.

A spectacular feature of the situation yesterday was a dash by President Wilson in an automobile from a golf course to the capital to reach there in time to sign the war revenue bill before adjournment. The president rushed into the capitol followed by secret service men at 5:45 o'clock in the evening. Attired in his golf clothes and without his reading glasses, he hastened into the president's room, where the revenue measure, signed by Speaker Clark and Senator Clarke, president protomeres of the senate, awaited him. Borrowing glasses from Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, the president signed the bill and several others which were waiting for him.

After an early conference at the white house today between President Wilson and Senators Kern and Overman, administration leaders were hopeful that congress would get out of the adjournment muddle today and end its session. There were indications that Senator Smith, of Georgia, and other southern democrats who blocked the adjournment with a fight for legislation to relieve the cotton situation, might relax their filibuster. Republicans and democrats continued to quit the capitol and a quorum of either house was not in the city.

HARRISON STREET BRIDGE TO BE THE LARGEST AND FINEST IN ALLEN COUNTY

WATERWAY 6000 SF

A Red Cross flag now flies from the top of the grandstand of the Epsom Down race course, scene of the great annual derby. The buildings have been converted as a war hospital.

Among the nations of Europe Turkey is the only one which does not fly the Red Cross in time of war. Instead the Turkish army medical corps uses a red crescent on a white background.

Above is a tracing of the plans for the Harrison street bridge over the St. Mary's river in Fort Wayne. It will be not only the longest, but the finest arches Engineer A. W. Grosvenor, who drew the plans, has inserted bluffs the of one span 136 feet long and four spans of fifty feet each. The largest span will clear the channel of the St. Mary's. To overcome the effect of unbalanced arches Engineer A. W. Grosvenor, who drew the plans, has inserted bluffs the terminals of the great arch two small arches that preserve the harmony of the design and at the same time afford additional outlet for flood. The capacity of the bridge to take care of flood flow is indicated by the line which shows the maximum stage of water at this point it is to be.

during the unprecedented floods of March, 1913. The bridge is to be of concrete and the engraving illustrates what a stately and beautiful structure it is to be.

ALL HAVE TRY AT WAR SONGS

Writing Them is Favorite
These Days.

London, Oct. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The common greeting in London is, "How are you getting along with your war song?" Every one is writing a war song, hoping to give Britain another "Marseillaise." But so far none of the recruiting songs which the music halls are trying to popularize have taken with the recruits, whose favorite remains the entirely unmartial, "It's a long, long way to Tipperary." The favorite whistling tune on the march is by all odds the "Marseillaise," although the soldiers' chorus from "Faust" and any spirited air has only to be started to be taken up by the entire line. This is why most of the war composers choose the old tunes rather than those made to order.

One amateur poet sent a set of verses to the Times with the chorus—

"Here's to Lord Kitchener, brown as the sun,
Gentle, persuasive and barmy.
Giving his orders and getting them done,
All that he wants for the army."

In this case the writer's attempt to rhyme barmy with army caused greater indignation among the untutored recruits than among the scholarly poets, for barmy in common use means weak in the intellect.

Barmy, however, is used in its correct sense by the brokers' battalion of the Glasgow stock exchange, who call themselves Cameron men. Their wail begins:

"Why did we join the Cameron men?
Why did we join the army?
Why did we come to Aldershot?
Because we're bally well barmy.
Skilful and duff, skilful and duff,
Because we're bally well barmy."

The Liverpool regiment has a distinctive marching song in the Lancashire dialect. It runs—

"We all coom fra' Lancashire,
We all coom fra' Lancashire,
Gradely fowk from a gradely place.
Be gumm, we mean to show the pace.
We all coom fra' Lancashire,
We're all bairns of a feyther.
If tha'll ha' one wi' me,
Then I'll ha' one wi' thee,
For we're all good pals together."

There are many songs in dialect by which commands from certain provincial points identify themselves. Of the purely patriotic songs, by far most popular is "Rule Britannia."

THEY GET ALONG SPLENDIDLY.

Divorced Wife Lives as Good Neighbor to Her Successor.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 23.—After living for a year on the best of neighborly terms next door to her husband's divorced first wife, Mrs. Alpha Pergau has just requested the probate court to appoint her guardian of the divorced wife.

This tangled tale of affection began several years ago when Mrs. Laura Pergau was sent to the hospital as insane. Later she was discharged, but would not go back to her husband, who thereupon secured a divorce. Last year he married again and gave his first wife a home next door to the one in which he installed his new bride.

He had the custody of the child, Viola Pergau, and the little girl's real mother used to run in daily to see her child, and to visit with Mrs. Alpha Pergau.

Recently the first Mrs. Pergau has suffered a relapse, and the second wife wants to be made her guardian in order to protect her interests. Both mothers love the child, Viola, deeply.

BREAKS A COLD, OPENS CLOGGED HEAD AND NOSE

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe cold or gripe in few hours.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Adv.

Denver Woman Runs for Office on New Sort of Platform

Mrs. A. L. Riddle.

Denver, Oct. 24.—"Love of humanity is my political creed and God is my only boss," is the platform on which Mrs. Agnes Riddle is running for secretary of state of Colorado.

Mrs. Riddle, who is a successful farmer, has served in the state legislature. She was nominated for secretary of state by the progressive party, but men and women of all parties are endorsing her candidacy.

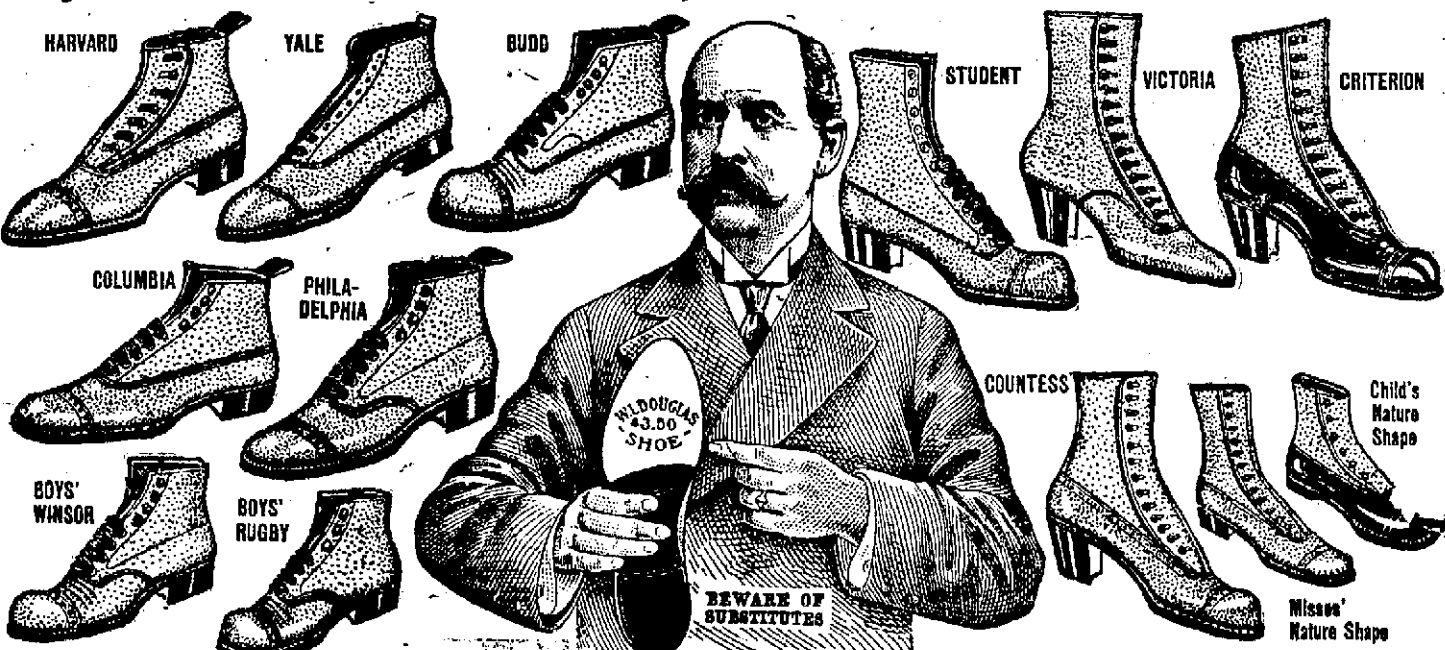

A century ago a workman with tools of that time could make five thousand pins a day. Now, with modern machinery, a workman can turn out fifteen million.

Checks were received recently by old law firms in Morristown, N. J., and their successors paying 10 per cent. dividend in a bankruptcy case forty years ago. Some of the lawyers have been puzzled about who should receive the dividend.

NO PROOF THAT MAN IS INSANE

Horsethief Willing to Put in
Plea of Guilty With
Some Trimmings.

Sheridan Angle, who stole a horse and buggy from Robert Elliott, a Monroeville liveryman, September 17, went into the circuit court with his counsel Friday afternoon prepared to plead guilty to grand larceny and to put in a plea also that he is insane. When Deputy Prosecutor Frank R. Dulin got at the matter he rejected the arrangement. There was no proof that Angle is insane and he objected to the prisoner saying, "I'm guilty, I'm crazy." So he was taken back to jail. With a woman he claims is his wife Angle stole the Elliott horse and drove across Allen county to Ligonier, where he was captured. The Allen County Protective association performed good work in tracing the thief and bringing about his capture.

Charges Fraud in Transactions.
In a suit filed in the circuit court by the Hamilton National bank against Peter D. Smyser, Sarah E. Smyser, his wife, and Nathan S. Smyser, his son, the plaintiff asks judgment for $6,200 and the setting aside of a deed of conveyance and a mortgage. The complaint alleges that on July 23, 1914, Peter D. Smyser, as "Peter S. Smyser," gave S. Bash & Company a note for $5,000 and that the payee assigned and transferred the note for its full value to the Hamilton bank. It is further alleged that on September 21, following, the defendant Smyser, with the fraudulent intent and purpose of cheating and defrauding the plaintiff in the collection of the note, without consideration sold and conveyed by deed to his wife the undivided one-half of lots 88 and 89 in Rockhill's addition, the property having a value of $20,000. It is also charged that on the same day and immediately prior to this transaction Peter D. Smyser executed to Nathan S. Smyser a mortgage purporting to secure a note for $1,370 executed by P. D. Smyser to his son without consideration. This and the conveyance are alleged to have been a conspiracy of the three to cheat and defraud the plaintiff. The complaint says that Peter D. Smyser is wholly insolvent and did not have at the time of the execution of the deed and mortgage, has not had at any time since and has not now sufficient other property subject to execution to pay his debts or from which the plaintiff's claim can be collected. The plaintiff therefore asks judgment for $6,200 on the note, prays that the deed to Mrs. Smyser and the mortgage to Nathan Smyser be declared fraudulent and void.

Notes of the Courts.
In the superior court Judge Yaple has granted a divorce to Elizabeth Bashara from Karel Bashara and ordered the defendant to pay her $5 a month for the support of a minor child. J. Couch & Son, importers of horses at Lafayette, have brought suit in the circuit court against William W. Driver to replevin an imported Belgian stallion and an imported Percheron stallion, valued at $1,000 and to recover $1,600 damages.

The superior court has dismissed the suit of Abraham Weil vs. the Michigan Central railroad.

The suit of John H. Auferheide vs. Jessie Mace has been sent to Huntington county on a change of venue from the Allen superior court.

The suit of H. G. Raymond & Co. against the Home Supply company for damages, is on trial before Judge Pro Tem Sol A. Wood and a jury in the superior court.

The suit of J. J. Owens vs. Lyman Layton, et al, has been dismissed from the superior court.

In the case of Freese & Gale vs. Edwin L. Sienkiewicz, judgments were given in the superior court for the defendants in the sums of $21.15 and $101.72. The receiver in the case made a final report and was discharged.

JUDGE YAPLE'S MOTHER HURT.
Judge Carl Yaple will go to Mendon, Mich., early Saturday morning to visit his mother, Mrs. George L. Yaple, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident Thursday evening. The car, belonging to the judge's brother, Edward L. Yaple, was overturned in a collision and the aged Mrs. Yaple sustained three broken ribs and internal injuries. Judge Yaple had expected to leave Friday afternoon for Mendon, but misfortune as to the leaving time of a train caused him to be delayed. Hon. Sol A. Wood is sitting as judge pro tem in the superior court.

TWICE A WOMAN HAS COME INTO HIS LIFE; EACH TIME HE FAILS TO ESCAPE.

Routledge worked in a small Alaskan town a few years ago. He became acquainted with a woman there. One day the gruff Alaskan miners took Routledge by the arm and told him it was either marriage or the rope.

"We went through a form of marriage, but it wasn't legal," Routledge told Mrs. Weller, according to her story. "We aren't legally married."

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 23.—Twice a woman has come into the life of Routledge to stay, despite his efforts to escape after more or less ardent courtships.

The first time was up in Alaska, where the gruff miners one day came to him and, taking the man by the arm, said it was either marriage or the rope.

The second time was here. And here the woman has taken him by the arm, saying it's either marriage or a $25,000 breach of promise suit.

In both instances his efforts to escape, when he had tired of the object of his love, were frustrated.

For two years J. Ira Routledge courted Mrs. Etta M. Weller, she says. He made ardent love to her, told her he wanted to make her his wife and that he could never live without her. Then for two years he tried to "shake" her. But she wouldn't be "shook" and now he faces a $25,000 breach of promise suit in the circuit court. J. Ira Routledge is associated with the Routledge Feed company.

"We met four years ago on the steamer Potter," she said. "I was acting as stewardess of the ship then and Mr. Routledge as a passenger spoke to me."

"He said he was a single man and told how hard a fight he had had to reach his present business position. In Portland he took me everywhere. To the theaters, the cafes, the amusement parks. We were happy—at least I was, and he seemed so. Day after day this went on and his promises of marriage were many."

"But wait a while, dear," he would say to me. "My business and other affairs need much attention now."

One of the affairs Routledge told Mrs. Weller about, she says, related to a woman whom Routledge had met in Alaska. According to Mrs. Weller.

making use of corps made up of new organizations. These are composed of men recently drilled, some of them very young and others of middle age, and have staffs drawn from various parts of the army.

"Russia: To the south of the Pilica the Germans still hold the Vistula river, with the exception of the line from Ivangorod to Kozitide. This they have abandoned, pursued by the Russians. "All the efforts made by the Austrians to cross the river San to the north of Jaroslau have been repulsed and the Russians are undertaking the offensive in this region."

THE BERLIN STATEMENT.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—(Via London, 5:10 p. m.)—An official announcement from German headquarters dated Oct. 23, says:

"On the Yser canal yesterday we gained successes."

"To the south of Dixmude our troops advanced."

"On the west of Lille our attacks were successful. We took possession of five villages."

"On the east of the western front it is generally quiet."

"In the eastern theater of war the Russian attacks near West Augustow have been repulsed. We captured several machine guns."

"There is no definite news from the southeastern field of the war."

IRA ROUTLEDGE AND MRS. ETTA WELLES.

Mrs. Weller first learned Routledge was a married man from friends. When she asked him if her friends had told the truth, he took her into a room on the steamer Potter and talked to her all night, she says.

After he had told her of his affair with the Alaskan woman he begged her to wait a while longer and he would get rid of the woman. Finally, at Mrs. Weller's insistence, a wedding date was set for June 30, 1914. June 30 came, but Routledge didn't. Mrs. Weller was broken-hearted. On July 4 she called him up at his home. There was no answer.

Mrs. Weller is 41 years old. Routledge, she says, is 48, and the Alaskan woman about 51.

Men Who Are in War Game Today

DR. HAMANN.

Dr. Hamann.

Tall, pale, short-sighted and silent, unknown even to his own countrymen, Dr. Heinrich Hamann, though actually only a minor official of the German government, probably knows more about the present great European war than any other living man. And this doesn't except the Kaiser, either.

The war has raised him from obscurity as far as the greater officials are concerned. With the public, however, he is still as little known as before. But his power is felt by the whole world.

Hamann is the official censor of Germany—commander-in-chief of the scores of censors in the German empire. He is answerable to the Kaiser and imperial chancellor alone. Ambassadors dare not run counter to his will. He is the boss.

In the same little office in Wilhelmstrasse that he occupied before the war he still sits, directing a group of writers and clerks, daily giving audience to the newspaper correspondents, carefully seeing to it that nothing likely to injure the German cause ever leaks out.

He clips the papers of the world, marking each item for the perusal of the chancellor and selecting the most important for the eyes of the Kaiser.

It is Hamann, director of the press bureau of the German foreign office, who decides what the world shall know of Germany and what Germany shall know of itself.

Before the war Hamann was known to a few diplomats and newspaper people. Because of his silent and retired character he made few acquaintances. He was a writer, and his work was frequently published in England and other countries, but not until Germany's "white paper" giving that nation's stand in the war appeared, did Europe have a hint of the part Hamann, who wrote it, was to play in the war game.

POSSE RESUMES BANDIT CHASE

Blaine, Wash., Oct. 23.—American and Canadian peace officers resumed today the pursuit of the three bank robbers who fled yesterday after a battle with a posse three miles north of the international line in which one bandit was killed and one wounded and one member of the posse, a Canadian immigration inspector, also lost his life. The officers believe they have cut off the bandits' retreat and that they will be captured today. The men robbed the First National bank of Sedro-Wooley, Wash., of $20,000 last Saturday night, and wounding two men as they fled from the bank. More than six thousand of the stolen money has been recovered.

ARGUES, THEN FALLS DEAD.
Allentown, Pa., Oct. 20.—The police were called the other day to the home of Jeremiah Marsh, a local painter, on a report that his wife had been murdered. They found Mrs. Marsh dead, but an investigation revealed that the woman had died suddenly from heart disease during a quarrel, it is alleged, over dinner.

According to Marsh's story, he took home a pan of scrapie and asked his wife to prepare it for dinner and that during an argument she fell dead. Marsh was released.

Chief Dispatcher George Robinson, of the Nickel Plate, had business at the office which would not permit his absence and he is not with the party, much to the regret of all. The program is a run to Valparaiso, taking notes of things of interest to men who have the responsible work of directing trains over a great railway system, and a big dinner at Montdale, five miles east of Valparaiso, returning here in time for the second trick dispatchers to report for duty at the regular hour—3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Inquiries at Nickel Plate Office Indicate Crowd to Cleveland.

The order for cars for the Cleveland excursion over the Nickel Plate tomorrow has been increased from twelve to fourteen. Why Let a Terrible Cough Hang On and Wear You Out?

Loosen Its Grip with that Wonderful Throat and Lung Medicine, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.

Coughs that "hang on" mostly settle on the lungs, and they fairly eat the life out of you. They use up your strength, lower your vitality, and pave the way for serious lung and bronchial diseases.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND leaves healing behind it as it slides down your throat. It covers raw, inflamed, irritated surfaces with a soothing healing coating. It stops the racking, tearing cough, and eases stuffy wheezy breathing.

WILL G. RICHMOND, Ingleswood, Cal., says: "FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR acts so well in harmony with nature, it is more like a food than a medicine."

E. J. SARGENT, Dallas, Texas, writes: "I had a terrible cough which would not describe. I spent much money and tried many kinds of treatment, but found nothing which would cure me. At last I tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and it completely relieved me of all bad symptoms and my cough entirely disappeared."

For all coughs, colds, croup, bronchial affections, la grippe, croup, throat and lung troubles, you will find it a medicine without a peer. Every good druggist is glad to mail it for its free satisfaction to his customers and contains no opiates. You cannot get a substitute to do for you what FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR will do. 25c, 50c, $1.00 sizes.

This is the first and will probably be the last cheap excursion out of Fort Wayne this fall and realizing this fact, the people are going to take advantage of the opportunity for a couple days in Cleveland at a nominal cost. The Nickel Plate has gotten out posters, giving a list of the attractions at Cleveland, including a foot ball game Saturday afternoon between Wooster and Chase universities. Conductor E. W. Hinkle will have charge of the special train which leaves the city at 7 o'clock in the morning. No. 2, leaving at 3:05, will also carry excursionists.

LOCKED UP AT WARSAW.

John Elvin Raised Disturbance in Pennsylvania Depot.

John Elvin, released from jail here Thursday morning, after serving a short sentence for drunkenness, is in jail at Warsaw, serving out a sentence of $10 and costs for being found intoxicated in a railway depot and creating a disturbance, imposed by Mayor Richardson. Elvin resides in Gary and started for that city yesterday. He went no farther than Warsaw, however, where he became offensive in the company's depot. Lieutenant E. A. Clark was there and he ran the fellow in, after a vain attempt to quiet him and persuade him to go to his home in Gary. Another man arrested by Lieut. Clark at Warsaw, on charge of being on a railway train in an intoxicated condition, was Henry Hofeldt. He received a fine of $1 and costs and is boarding it out.

A car in a Pennsylvania freight train was derailed at Alwood yesterday afternoon in such manner as to block both tracks over an hour and one of the trucks two hours. The air hose burst and the draw bar pulled out, derailing the car and tearing up several yards of the eastbound track. Passenger trains 20 and 22 were each delayed by the accident.

The week-end program of amusement at the Temple is, as is indicated by the waves of delighted applause that greeted every act on the opening day of the bill's engagement. From "The Theatrical Agent," the novel ventriloquist act in which Hugh McCormick and Grace Wallace are headlining the bill, down to the movie show bill pleases. McCormick and Wallace are both ventriloquists of a high order and in their skit they have evolved some clever stuff to display their abilities. Robert Hall, an extemporaneous singer, who marches out onto the stage and starts singing about anything he thinks of, "had 'em going" last night with his clever verse improvised on the spur of the moment.

The bill closes with a strong man act that is a polished line of athletic artistry. Davies and Romanelli are finished athletes in this line, the Romanelli husky possessing a luck and pair of arms that are almost unbelievably powerful. He tosses his heavy partner from one hand-stand to another with an ease and precision that makes their act a delight to watch.

The opening number is that of the Ward Sisters. One of the young ladies weighs but ninety-eight pounds. As she walks through the audience she invites members of the audience to lift her. This they do easily enough at first, but a second later when they are invited to try again, they find it impossible to budge her. Miss Ward defies gravity.

Second on the bill comes Sampson and Douglas with an entertaining potpourri of whimsicalities. Third on the bill comes the headline act, Harry Girard and company in "The Luck of A Totem." There are seven people in the cast, every one of whom is a singer and actor of great merit.

The best trio ever heard here is that of Sherman, Van and Hyman. They do imitations of sissies singing songs and of Frenchmen getting off a French song in a manner to make everyone hilarious. The act peculiar, sensational and unusual is that of Scullin's cats and rats. Here are cats and rats who are actually educated, who perform tricks and play together with the peace of Eden before the fall.

Shady—Baker.

Two young people who have not been residents of this city for many months and who were married at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon were Miss Josephine Baker and Mr. Oscar Shady. Rev. M. L. Buckler, pastor of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, officiated at the marriage ceremony at his residence in Maple avenue. The bride was formerly of Mercer county, Ohio, and the groom came here from Decatur. Mr. Shady works for the Fort Wayne Electric company.

News AlwaysCONFERENCE HAS
THE BEST TEAMSStagg States Western Clubs Are as Strong as Those in East.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)
The best teams in the west are in the conference, not outside the conference. This startling statement was made by Alonzo A. Stagg, former Yale football star, and more widely known for his remarkable development of University of Chicago football teams.

Coach Stagg made this statement after summarizing the work of the players in the recent interconference contest between Notre Dame and Yale. Apparently Stagg didn't arrive at a ready conclusion. The interviewer put the question to the "Grand Old Man," as he is known on the midway, and the answer came after a minute's thought.

"There are good teams in the west, and the teams in the east were to meet them," continued Stagg. "They would find out. The conference coaches do not concede to Michigan and Notre Dame any superiority. Undoubtedly there are as good teams in the conference as Yale, Harvard and Princeton."

"It would have been a great delight to me personally if the championship Chicago eleven of 1913 could have met Harvard last year. And I would not have had any misgivings as to the result."

That is the opinion of one of the greatest football coaches ever known to the west. Stagg doesn't believe eastern football is superior to western football. Even if Harvard succeeds in defeating Michigan in the second interconference test at Cambridge on Oct. 31, will he concede that the east is better than the west? Just because he is firmly convinced that there are two or three teams within the conference domain as strong if not stronger than the Wolverines.

But the general consensus of nearly all western coaches is that the west has made football what it really is. They are sure that without the development the game has undergone in these parts within the last five years, football would have remained an archaic sport with the old slam-bang, "kill 'em" style still in vogue.

In the west these tutors of the greatest college sports point with pride that it was that section of the country, west of the Alleghenies that was responsible for the wide open, spectacular sport.

Since the conference rules forbid the playing of games with eastern schools it was up to Notre Dame and Michigan to tackle the prizes of the Atlantic seaboard. Already the invaders have fallen, but more hope is entertained for Michigan in its battle with the Crimson athletes of Cambridge. With Huggitt and Brickley in a hospital a claim of victory for the odds are about as they stand before these casualties. Unless Huggitt follows in the footsteps of Huggitt, Harvard will apply old fashioned football to defeat the open game. Surprises are sure to be in order between now and then.

WHEELING SEEKS PLACE ON ROSTERHeilbroner Attends a Meeting and Hears the Promoters.

(Wheeling Intelligencer.)
The local baseball fans of Wheeling and vicinity may now sit up and feel hopeful. It is very probable that a real, honest-to-goodness baseball team will represent Wheeling next year. Tentative plans for such were outlined yesterday when two meetings were held by local men. The meetings were the result of careful consideration of the baseball subject during the past few months and while nothing definite can be said at this time, it is very likely that something will develop that will be pleasing to the fans generally.

President Louis Heilbroner, of the "Central league," attended the meeting, officially. Knowing that local people desire to place a team in some league, he came to the city to discuss the matter with them.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held by baseball men of this vicinity, and the entire situation was carefully considered. The question of placing a team in the Central league was taken up, and while Mr. Heilbroner was unable to make a statement officially, he said that he personally would be glad to see Wheeling back again in the old Central. During the season of 1914 the league was conducted with six teams, and all but one of these teams produced its share of the financial surplus. Springfield, however, did not show up well in attendance, and it is generally believed that the team lost money.

Nothing definite will be known concerning the league's policy for the next season, however, until after the heads get together, and after the meeting of the national association, which will be held in Omaha Nov. 20. At that time something definite will be done, and then another meeting will be held by local people.

It is very likely that "Pop" Shriver, the man who brought one Central league team to Wheeling with a "Stogie" team, will be again the helm of Wheeling gets a 1915 Central league berth.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Eddie Collins, regarded as one of the greatest ball players the game has ever developed, will not be a member of Connie Mack's big squad in field next season. According to a report which was current among high baseball officials in attendance at the world series a deal will be made this winter whereby Collins will become manager of the New York Americans, for which team he will, of course, play second base.

It is not a secret that Collins has been in disfavor with Connie Mack during the greater part of the past season. Mack and Collins signed to a three-year contract calling for $15,000. But an offer from the Federal league raised Collins to insist on a new contract from the Philadelphia club, and he is now under a contract calling for $3,000 per year for a period of three years. This salary is thought exorbitant by Mack, who insists he cannot pay such salaries because of the poor support his athletes are getting, so he is said to have agreed to part with Collins to the New York club, which needs a manager.

The Philadelphia club is to be compensated for Collins by the seven other clubs of the league, who, of course, realize that to have Collins in charge of the New York club will make that team a better attraction both at home and abroad, and consequently be of financial benefit to the entire league.

Eddie Collins has for several years been considered the star of the Athletics' stock in field. His loss to the team, naturally would make a great difference in its strength, but would be a general benefit because it would bring the Athletics down to where they would be nearer equal in strength to some of the other teams.

Look for our Inspection Number---507

Fred Eckart Packing Co.

Many reports reach us of cholera among hogs in this vicinity.

Government inspection is the only guarantee the people have that the meat they buy is from animals that were free from dangerous disease at time of slaughter.

We operate the only packing house in Fort Wayne or Allen county under government inspection. Three government experts, employed and paid by the United States government, constantly supervising and inspecting from start to finish.

Arrangements are now being made to have Dr. Mollan here within the next two weeks to give a number of illustrated lectures throughout the county on disease prevention. The dates for these have not yet been set.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, October 18, 1914.

Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterinarian co-operating with Purdue university, yesterday found hog cholera when he held a post-mortem at the farm of Paul Zink, residing five miles east of New Haven. The examination was witnessed by fifty farmers in the neighborhood.

Dr. Mollan was assisted by County Agent Henry. When the men arrived at the farm they found several sick hogs penned for the "post." One of the hogs was killed and dissected. The lungs, kidneys, bladder and intestines were found spotted as in the case of cholera. The official spent some time in demonstrating the effects of cholera on the hog and told how the disease may be found in a pen of hogs. Following the examination Dr. Mollan had each farmer present disinfect his shoes with a wash prepared. This was done to prevent carrying disease germs to farms where there is no cholera.

THE STOCKING

The stocking has been called the first national bank. This is only partly true, for people began saving before they began wearing hosiery. But the day of the stocking bank is past. It never was very safe and it never paid any interest. A real bank with burglar-proof vaults is a great improvement. Then, too, a real bank pays a liberal rate of interest on your deposits. THE GERMAN-AMERICAN is a REAL BANK, and will take even small savings and pay you 4 per cent. interest on them. Try it.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 25

JESUS AND JUDAS

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 23:14-28, 47-50; 27:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—Woe unto that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed. Matt. 26:43 R. V.

No literature has a more terrible story than that of Judas. Matthew gives us perhaps the fullest account of his last acts and the part he had in those final hours of the suffering and death of Jesus.

Mary's act of anointing, by Jesus commended, and by Judas condemned, caused the latter to fare forth for his final act of faithless infamy. Contrasted with the odor of her good deed, we here have the stench of an evil deed.

I. The Betrayal, vv. 14-28. (1) The Price, vv. 14-16. Disappointed in his hopes that Jesus would establish an earthly kingdom wherein he should hold a high position, stung by the rebuke of vv. 10-13 (cf. John 12:4-8) and moved by cupidity, Judas hurries to the enemies of Jesus (see John 18:27). He saw no further opportunity to profit through "holding the bag," John 18:29, and so got what he could from the rulers. He estimated his worth at 30 pieces of silver about seventeen or nineteen dollars, or the value of a slave; see Ex. 21:22 and Phil. 2:7, also the prophecy of Zechariah 11:12-13. Hate, envy, disappointed ambition, and cupidity drove Judas with relentlessness in his final act of infamy. Verily, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," Gal. 6:7. (2) The Penalty, vv. 17-25. As we read the various accounts of that tragic last night we note that being warned and singled from among the other disciples in no wise moved Judas to repentance. The conspiracy, see Matt. 26:1-5, 14-16, had been consummated before that last meeting in the upper room.

Must Be Born Again

Even grace cannot save us in our sins. All of his gifts, his nearness to the Son of God, his knowledge, first handed, of those marvelous teachings of Jesus, did not grip his heart. Head knowledge alone never saved anyone. It is not enough even to be numbered among the disciples. There must be a new creation, we must be born again, John 3:7. In verse 24 we read the final warning and John tells us (13:27) that following these words he is commanded to "go out quickly."

II. The Betrayal, vv. 47-50. There are four stages in this episode: (1) In the house of Simon at the anointing of Jesus by Mary; (2) The one just considered and which took place in the "upper room" in connection with the Passover feast; (3) The third is the subject of this paragraph and took place in the Garden following the events of last week's lesson. This picture has been painted so often as to be familiar to us all. The Son of Man, the advancing apostate disciple, the mob; what an appalling scene. Judas had probably led first to the house whence he had left Jesus. Finding Jesus and the disciples had departed (v. 30) he knew where, in all probability, he would find the Master. It was a familiar resort for Jesus and his disciples, John 18:2, 3. Judas had often sat under these same olive trees and listened to him who "taught as never man taught." It was also a place sacred to prayer. How things are changed. Judas had allowed Satan to enter his heart (John 13:27, see also James 4:7) and with eager feet he crosses the brook Kedron, past the disciples and into the presence of Jesus to betray him with a kiss.

The Final Stage

III. "He Went and Hanged Himself" 27:3-10. The fourth and final stage is reached when, seeing that Jesus is condemned and about to be executed, Judas, filled with remorse, carried back the 30 pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders. What an exhibition of hypocrisy they evidenced, not to take the price of blood, forsooth! Judas did not really repent. The word here used for "repent" is rather that he suffered remorse, and that does not necessarily involve repentance as we all know. Had he truly repented he would not have hanged himself and he would have been saved even as the repentant thief was saved.

There is no necessary contradiction between this and the account given in Acts 1:18. "If he hanged himself in the field of blood" and the rope broke the account given in Acts would naturally follow.

The Teaching. As we recall these final things in the life of Judas we must remember that they are not the beginnings of his defection. The development of the lives of Judas and Peter are profoundly different. Both looked for a temporal kingdom and both were out of sympathy with the teachings of Jesus as to the necessity of his death. One, for personal gain, betrayed, and the other, for self-protection, denied his Lord. When Judas saw Jesus condemned, he too saw the end of his dreams the same as Peter. In that hour he committed suicide, an act of cowardice of the worst kind.

It is reported in the newspapers of Transbaikalia that new, exceedingly rich gold fields were recently discovered on lands belonging to the czar in the region of Station Zilovo, of the Transbaikalian railroad, on the Dolzhol-Urlium river system.

TELLS HOW TO BUY VEGETABLES

Schools in New York Are Circulating Notices to Families.

New York, Oct. 22.—George W. Perkins, New York financier and chairman of Mayor Mitchell's committee on food supply, has asked the schools of New York to circulate the following notice to families that may be affected by the threatened financial crisis.

"We may confront a critical winter," declared Mr. Perkins, "and we must prepare to meet the situation by learning how to save and to buy wisely."

This is some of the advice offered by the circular:

"In buying vegetables, select them yourself and see that they are fresh. This is important. There are tricks in all trades, including the vegetable trade.

"You will get more potatoes if you buy them by the weight and not by the measure.

"Never buy sprouting potatoes. Serious illness has been known to follow their use.

"In buying potatoes, ask your dealer to cut one in half. Take the two halves and put them together; if they are juicy enough to stick together you have a good potato.

"In buying cabbage, get a hard, heavy head, with crisp white leaves and with the stalk cut close to the head. Many a large head of cabbage looks heavy, but on taking it in your hand you will find it is very light.

"In buying beans, choose those with dirty roots and fresh green leaves. This shows they have not been soaked to freshen them.

"In buying winter squash, choose one that has no soft spots. Choose a medium-size one; the larger ones are very seedy.

CLOVER LEAF IS SUE.

Violations of Crew Service Act Alleged by Government.

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—Suit for judgment of $3,000 has been filed against the Toledo, St. Louis and Western (Clover Leaf) Railroad company by Frank C. Duley, United States attorney for Indiana. It is charged that the railroad violated an order of the interstate commerce commission by failing to report within thirty days following the end of a month the violations, occurring in the month, of an act limiting the hours of service of trainmen. The act provides against members of train crews being kept at work continuously more than sixteen hours. The suit contains thirty counts, and judgment of $100 is asked on each count.

Featuring These Special Values In Tomorrow's Offering

A SPECIAL SALE

Of Tailored Suits Tomorrow, that will give many a woman and miss a saving from 2.50 to 5.00 from former prices

19.50 For TAILORED SUITS Regularly priced from 22.50 to 23.50 | 25.00 For TAILORED SUITS Regularly priced from 27.50 to 30.00

We could not give you a more timely offering than is embodied in this Special Sale of Tailored Suits with the actual lowering of prices from our regular selections.

We have but one reason to offer, namely: Always maintaining a strong line of the best suit values at $25.00, and from this fact the assortment having become somewhat depleted in sizes and color selection, and to finish the season with these "best values" for the popular price, we added all the lines above $25.00 and up to $30.00, to the $25.00 line. For the same reason the $19.50 price was chosen for the suits that sold at $22.50 and $23.50, as our suit values below $20.00 have always been without question the best that money could buy. Having "strengthened" these two ends of "suit value" offerings you can well see that the profitable suit opportunity begins tomorrow.

Every beautiful weave, style and color is here for your selection without restriction, between the price of 22.50 to 30.00 you will be asked to pay but 19.50 or 25.00.

BUTLER STREET MAY BE OPENED

Project for Cutting Thoroughfare from Calhoun to Clinton.

Interested property owners are furthering a project to open East Butler street from Calhoun street to Clinton street and thus join the east and west sections of that thoroughfare to make it continuous from Fairfield avenue to Lafayette street. The street was never opened from Calhoun street to Clinton. The proposed opening is through a part of Hamilton's fourth addition to the city and that addition was never platted, but was cut into lots determined by metes and bounds and sold. The part needed for a street consists of four lots, two fronting on Calhoun street and having a width of 20 and 31 feet, and two fronting on Clinton street and having a width of 30 feet each. Each lot is the site of a residence and all of them are houses of substantial character. The cost of the opening would be considerable. That the street has never been opened through this one block during all the years that the addition has been a part of the city is more or less of a puzzle and the proposed improvement would add greatly to the general convenience and would much enhance the value of property in the immediate vicinity. The proposal may be brought before the board of works at an early day.

HOLD UP BEQUEATH A WEEK.

Board of Works Will Examine Remonstrance Against Extension.

At its regular meeting Thursday evening the board of works postponed for a week action on the resolution for opening and extending Bequette street from the first alley west of Runkle avenue to Runkle. In order to determine the validity of several signatures to a remonstrance that was filed against confirmation of the resolution, the board overruled the remonstrance against the opening between Alexander and Abbott streets from the south line of Ilwaco and Taylor's addition to Bequette street, holding it to be invalid.

The board opened bids for the paving of St. Mary's avenue from Bequette street to Burgess street, the distance of a square. The first construction company bid on anchored bituminous concrete, the type of pavement put down on the balance of the street this fall, its figures being $8.50 with stone curbing. The Muller company bid $8.35 on plain concrete with stone curbing, and $7.50 on concrete with combined curb and gutter of concrete.

The board confirmed resolutions for several street extensions, alley openings and sewer rights of way and confirmed assessment rolls for a number of streets, alley pavements and sidewalk contracts. A list of all of which was printed in this department Thursday. The board ordered the paving of Maumee avenue and St. Mary's avenue.

WANTS WORK HURRIED ALONG.

General Manager Wood, of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, who was in the city Thursday, inspected the situation at the Main street subway, where the railroad is to build a new bridge and change the grade of the street, and the contractor is expected to start the work, all of which is to be done and paid for by the railroad, to make all possible haste to complete the improvement. The railroad is interested in the paving of Maumee avenue and St. Mary's avenue.

The mayor is for the purpose of uniting cities of the United States in a strong offensive and defensive alliance to deal with questions and problems of public utilities and with special reference to public service corporations. One session will be devoted to municipal ownership and operation of public utilities, and in this Mayor Hosey is intensely interested. Miss Jean Hosey, the mayor's daughter, will accompany him.

WM. HAHN & COMPANY—FORT WAYNE'S GREATEST BARGAIN STORE.HOLD A MEETING AT STATE HOUSE

Governor to Meet Stockmen and Discuss Quarantine on Cattle.

On Saturday morning Governor Samuel M. Nelson, state veterinarian, and Dr. F. A. Balser, his assistant, will meet a number of stockmen at the governor's office in the state house at Indianapolis to decide on what action is to be taken to prevent the spread of foot and mouth disease among the cattle of northern Indiana.

The veterinarians met the governor at the Anthony hotel in Fort Wayne Thursday night and again on Friday morning and discussed the situation in detail. The governor afterward said:

"The veterinarians are very much worked up over conditions among the cattle and think some drastic action ought to be taken at once but no plan was mapped out at the meeting."

"I cannot give a hint of what will be done until I have heard from the cattle-men and have learned the extent of the disease and have talked over the best means of prevention. If it is found necessary then to have the state intervene further the department in charge will be authorized to go ahead with whatever is suggested as the best solution of the trouble."

The meeting here was the direct result of the threatened quarantine against all Indiana cattle by the federal government. Information conveyed to Mr. Nelson is to the effect that the disease exists in Laporte and St. Joseph counties and has so far been confined to this section of the state.

Dr. Nelson has been notified that unless action is taken at once the federal government will be compelled to establish quarantine.

"FORT WAYNE IN 1916" THE CRY

Delegates in Effort to Secure Christian Endeavor Convention.

Word from one of the delegates from this city to the biennial Christian Endeavor state convention in session at Logansport states that the local delegates are working hard to land the 1916 state convention for Fort Wayne. Other cities who are making strong bids for the next meeting are Muncie, Marion and Terre Haute.

In an effort to strengthen the chance of landing the convention here nine Christian Endeavor societies of the city sent telegrams to the convention church to the chairman of the committee to select the place, asking that the committee should consider Fort Wayne. Those delegates who are in attendance from this city are A. Leslie Jacobs, Ina Maxwell, Esther Fritz, Clarence Aiken and Ethel Kirby. Over 500 delegates are in attendance at this meeting which is presided over by Rev. H. B. Hostetter, of South Bend.

HELD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

New Members Are Admitted by First Baptist Bible Class.

The Men's Bible class of the First Baptist Sunday school had a very enthusiastic gathering at their business meeting in the church parlors Thursday evening—about fifty men being present. Several new members were taken in, also stirring and optimistic talks as to the future of the class and the possibilities for doing big things were given by Brothers Farr and Harrod.

After the regular business session an instructive and interesting talk was given by Judge Ellison on the new constitution for the state of Indiana. Following this talk all the men gathered around the tables and enjoyed a social time—sort of get-acquainted stunt—with some genuine October refreshments—pumpkin pie, doughnuts and sweet cider.

FAKE, SAYS MUNSTERBERG.

Denies Authorship Ascribed to Him in Cologne Newspaper.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23.—Authorship of a letter reported in Amsterdam cable dispatches to have been published in the Cologne Gazette under the signature of Hugo Munsterberg, in which the writer deplored the trend of American sentiment against Germany, was emphatically denied by the Harvard professor today. After the Amsterdam dispatch had been read to him, Prof. Munsterberg said: "It is an absolute fake. I never have written such a letter to the Cologne Gazette or to any other paper or person in Germany or America."

Why not come in and get acquainted with the home-building store.

That stove of yours has seen its best days. You need a new one. You know it—but you have let things drift along. Meanwhile, you have been losing HALF of every hord of coal you have put in it. Of course, you knew it, but you did not think of it that way. You know that half of every lump is gas. Fail to burn that gas and it is like throwing into the ditch half of every dollar you spend in coal. Rather extravagant? Yes? The ordinary stove made of a lot of separate castings leaks air. They leak air at the wrong place. Places you can not control. RESULT—the best part of your coal—the 14,000 cubic feet of common illuminating gas that is in the average ton of $3.00 soft coal—goes up the flue unburned. You have lost it. It has gone up in smoke.

Save that gas—mix it properly with air and you have the hottest kind of a blue flame. But there is only one way to do this—Buy the only heater that is made tight—holds tight—stays tight.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

It leaks no air. This is the heater that mixes the gas and air and gives you all the heat in the coal. This is the heater that burns any kind of coal and makes a ton of $3.00 soft coal do the work of $8.00 hard coal in a high priced base burner.

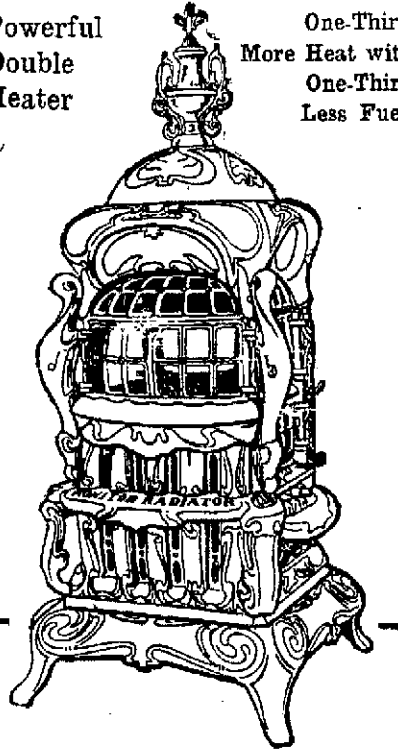

This is the heater that is a joy and comfort to the housewife. It makes no dirt or smoke in the house. This is the heater that saves labor—fix it in the morning and at night and FORGET IT THE REST OF THE TIME. This is the heater that gives a steady, constant heat from soft coal or lignite. This is the heater that will hold its fire untouched for a day and a half. This is the heater we sell you under a guarantee that is as "good as old wheat at the mill." Burns soft coal, lignite, slack, hard coal or wood. It is just the kind of a heater you want. Come in and see it.

See the name "Cole's" on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it

LORIMER BEATS IT INTO COURT

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Capitals were being prepared today for the arrest of former United States Senator William Lorimer. Charles B. Munday and twelve other officials of the LaSalle Street bank and allied interests against whom indictments were returned yesterday charging larceny with intent to defraud. The aggregate of the bonds demanded of the defendants is $275,000. The first of the indicted men to surrender was John B. Devoney, former president of the International Trust and Savings bank. Lorimer's attorney telephoned the chief bailiff to hold up the capias for his client as the latter would appear in court this afternoon but the bailiff said the ordinary routine of service would be followed. The former senator beat the process server into court and provided bonds of $30,000. His son, William, and several other defendants also were in court with their bondsmen.

BULLETIN.

Biarritz, France, Oct. 23.—(Via Paris, 3:10 p. m.)—There is no truth in the report of the death of Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico. Senor Diaz has been suffering from a slight gastric trouble, but he has driven out daily for several days past and this morning he took a walk on the beach.

Mrs. Amy Winship, age 90, of Madison, Wisconsin's oldest student in point of years, has again registered, selecting biological science and advanced work in the domain of electricity and magnetism.

Hares, horses and gruffes are better able to see objects behind them without turning their heads than any other quadrupeds.

FORCES WILL BE TRAINED IN WORK

Sunday School Teachers' Institutes to Be Held This Winter.

Indianapolis, Oct. 23.—The 5,215 Sunday school of Indiana, with a teaching force of about 60,000, will this winter give much attention to the training of teachers already in service and those who are ambitious to take charge of classes. Unlike the public schools of the state, the Sunday schools have no great normal schools or other institutions supported by the taxpayers to help turn out trained teachers, and not one of the teachers receives pay for service, although some of them have been teaching for many years. But the Sunday schools have well defined methods for training their own teachers. Scores of individual schools have their own training classes. In some communities the teachers are combined in training schools, and during the coming winter more effective methods of instructing and enthusing teachers how to teach will be worked out in city institutes, to which all church and Sunday school workers will be admitted. One of the largest of these institutes is now in progress at Indianapolis, the course of study covering ten weeks, and several hundred workers are enrolled for the work, which covers all lines of church and Sunday school activities, with highly proficient instructors in charge of each department. Another of these schools has been organized at Plymouth, to continue through the winter. In all the schools, teacher training courses of study prescribed by the Indiana Sunday School association, with headquarters at Indianapolis, are followed. Examinations are held and diplomas are awarded the efficient teachers, so they go into Sunday school work with the standard of mental equipment required of a teacher in the public schools.

The state association is very compactly organized, with county, township and individual school organizations all working to the same end. Each school of the association studies the same lessons, and in a period of years the entire Bible is covered. Each year, too, the pupils of a class are graduated to a higher class, and the ultimate goal of the Sunday school is to lead the pupils into church membership. Over 27,000 of them entered the church from the Sunday school last year, yet continued their active identification with the Sunday school work.

In the institute work, the state association is helping the cities in a number of ways—mapping out programs and lines of study, suggesting executive plans for managing the institutes, providing special speakers. The public libraries of every town in Indiana may be drawn upon for much of the reference work, and the vast resources of the Indiana state library are also available by mail. The institutes are all self-supporting, with insignificant cost to those who enter.

SUGGEST A STORK STRIKE.

Ohio Women Advance New Theory to Stop Wars.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 23.—A "stork strike" was endorsed by over 900 delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention here as a means of forcing the nations of the world to stop warfare. The suggestion was offered by Mrs. Viola Romans, of Columbus, state secretary of the W. C. T. U. Among those who spoke in favor of it was Mrs. Ricketts Snell, prominent Cincinnati clubwoman.

"Women suffer agony to bring children into the world and the European war has proved that these children may be fed to cannon and shrapnel any time," said Mrs. Snell. "Men do not understand the value of human life in the terms that women do."

"Men of France have even offered the vote to French women if they will permit their 16-year-old sons to go to battle."

"If all women would only band together and refuse to supply the armies of the world with sons, I think that we could end military

"This year's recruits, after two months' training, are now fit to bear arms. They are excellent material, young and enthusiastic and will be joined at the front by a section of the reserve not yet called to the colors, representing probably nearly half a million entirely fresh troops."
